6 schools to close, ending 200 jobs

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
(Related story on Page 7)

Failing to achieve unanimity and failing to halt growth of its operating debt, the Granite City Board of Education nevertheless took a major step toward cost control Tuesday night by closing six schools effective in June.

On a 5-2 vote before a displeased audience of more than 100 persons, the board eliminated an estimated $3.8 million in yearly costs and approved dismissal of 203 employees. More jobs will be ended in the coming weeks.

Despite spending reductions, all academic and related programs will continue except the elementary schools' instrumental bands, board members emphasized. The latter program will be offered as an after-school activity if there is sufficient interest, they added.

Granite City High School North will close, along with five elementary schools—Emerson, Lake, Johnson, Nameoki and Logan. Logan pupils will attend the adjacent Frabrier building, which will become solely an elementary school.

School attendance boundaries will be changed throughout the school district.

The 1983-84 structure will call for sixth through 12th grade students to attend GCHS South, seventh and eighth graders to go to the Coolidge and Grigsby junior high schools; and kindergarten through sixth grade pupils to attend Niedringhaus, Webster, Wilson, Marshall, Frohardt, Parkview, Maryville and Mitchell.

Affirmative votes were cast by Monroe Worthen, Robert Maxwell, David Partney, Thomas Miofsky and Secretary George Moore.

President Donald Stucke said he favored assigning seventh grade children to elementary schools and placing eighth through 12th graders in North and South.

Dewey Melton opposed phasing out the North building, although not necessarily North High; he also noted that the cost cuts are not enough to prevent present debt from increasing.

Partney responded that "saving $4 million is better than saving nothing" and said 10 1/2 percent interest is costing the district upwards of $400,000 a year. He assailed Melton for urging cuts of "$5 million to $7 million" and then voting negatively on the reductions that received majority support.

There was loud applause for Melton and Stucke. David Melton, unrelated to the board member, was allowed to speak and assailed the cost cuts as excessive.

Worthen stressed his view that only by maintaining financial integrity can the schools continue their instructional quality.

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis, facing the glare of television lights, said, "This is the most unhappy task I have undertaken in my professional career."

"Over the past several years (Washington, Stallings and McKinley schools were closed in August 1979), less traumatic cost reductions have been necessary to help offset a growing deficit."

"With the accelerating financing problems facing the state, a major source of revenue for school districts, and with

Summary of school actions

Granite City public school changes:

After June 1983, all ninth through 12th graders will attend GCHS South. GCHS North will close.

Seventh and eighth graders will attend Coolidge and Grigsby. The Frabrier Junior High building will become an elementary school after June 1983.

Kindergarten through sixth grade centers remaining open will be Frohardt, Marshall, Maryville, Mitchell, Niedringhaus, Parkview, Webster and Wilson. Attendance zones will be revised.

Elementary schools closing in June 1983 will be Emerson, Lake, Johnson and Nameoki. The Logan building will close and Logan pupils will attend the adjacent Frabrier building.

Tenants will be sought for closed schools.

All academic, vocational, athletic and extracurricular programs will remain intact, except elementary band; the latter will be offered after-school if enough students desire it.

Class size will be in a range of 30 to 35.

Honorable dismissals are scheduled for 203 persons, in addition to approximately 17 to 20 scheduled retirements. But in some cases, such as some of those who will be in the 12th year of seniority, part of the 203 will be rehired for 1983-84.

The 203 positions consist of: 136 teachers and teaching support staff members, nine administrators, 15 secretaries, 26 custodians, 13 cafeteria employees and four others (such as monitors and teaching aides).

During the next month, further administrative and non-certificated positions will be added to the above dismissal list (effective in June).

Some administrators will revert to teaching. The administrative and supervisory staff will be altered, with duties redefined and all assignments newly evaluated.

Cost cuts are estimated at $3,831,400 for 1983-84. When $300,000 gained from the assessment multiplier and $150,000 in delayed state reimbursements are considered, the budget impact totals $4,281,400.

Because net reductions take into account special first-year costs, such as unemployment compensation and payment for unused earned absences, the cuts are larger in their 1984-85 impact.

National Steel reports loss of $462 million

National Steel Corp. this week reported preliminary third-quarter loss showing a fourth-quarter loss of $53 million from operations and special charges of $229 million after taxes, for a total loss of $282 million, or $15.06 per share, in the final 1982 quarter. The past year's loss totaled $462,773,000. The special charges include a $266 million pre-tax provision for the anticipated loss on proposed sale of the Weirton Steel Division and a $60 million pre-tax charge for the write-off of permanently idled facilities and other non-recurring charges.

These pre-tax charges were partially offset by a pre-tax gain of $33 million from the liquidation of LIFO inventories, including an $11 million liquidation gain from a change in the method of calculating such inventories, and by $84 million in income tax credits. LIFO is the last-in, first-out accounting method.

In the fourth quarter of 1981, National Steel earned $16.5 million, or 89-cents per share.

The consolidated after-tax loss for National Steel in 1982, $462,773,000 or $24.71 per share, was the largest in the company's history.

For the year, National reported pre-tax losses of $387 million from con-

A.O. Smith Board approves reopening of frame plant

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Following the approval of the A.O. Smith Corp. Board of Directors Tuesday to reopen the vacant automotive frame assembly plant in Granite City, company officials pledged themselves to trying to expand A.O. Smith operations in the building, rather than to try and lease parts of the mammoth half-million-square-foot facility out to other companies.

"That will remain an A.O. Smith building. We are not considering subleasing parts of it any longer. We hope for additional contracts for A.O. Smith to produce there," Jack M. Birchhill, director of merchandising and public relations told the Press-Record from the firm's headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis., Tuesday.

"All of us at A.O. Smith are just very pleased that Ford Motor Co. considers us an able supplier and are glad to be returning to Granite City to produce their cars. We hope to get back to work as soon as possible and fulfill our promise to Ford from the good Granite City people," Birchhill said.

An official announcement from the company issued Tuesday quotes Paul J. Kemp, vice president and general manager of the Automotive Division for A.O. Smith, as saying, "We are delighted to be able to reopen the Granite City plant. We have always had a fine relationship with the people of the community and the plant had a good performance record."

Kemp was manager from the Granite City plant from 1966 to 1971.

Birchhill said A.O. Smith intends to put outside contractors to work this year cleaning out the plant in preparation for the installation of heavy presses and equipment early in 1984. He said the re-equipping of the plant to produce front end assemblies for a new 1986 Ford passenger car will be "a mammoth operation."

No applications for work will be accepted until 1984 and an announcement of procedures to be followed by those applying will be made at that time.

By early 1985, approximately 100 to 150 persons will be employed on a "tryout" production line and that number is expected to grow steadily to approximately 300 to 400 employees by 1987.

Birchhill said it is too soon to determine how many shifts will be hired when production of the 1986 Fords begins. "A lot depends upon what Ford predicts (in sales) for that model," he noted. He said he could not answer whether one production line or two will be installed initially, saying that the engineering work on the plans has not yet begun.

Asked if he feels A.O. Smith also will produce 1987 and 1988 Ford front assemblies here, Birchhill said he cannot discuss the company's contracts, but said, "A company like Ford does not sign this type of contract for just one year. The key is giving them a good quality product as a competitive cost and assure yourself of a long future," Birchhill concluded.

President addresses RCGA group

ST. LOUIS—An optimistic mood was expressed by President Ronald Reagan, guest speaker at Tuesday's luncheon of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association (RCGA) at the Cervantes Convention Center.

The chief executive toured the Chrysler Corp. facility in Fenton, Mo., prior to the luncheon and cited that industry's resurgence as proof of his statement to Congress a week ago that "America is on the mend."

Among the dignitaries at the head table with Reagan were Drew Karandjeff, president of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, and Attorney Leo Konzen. Both are members of the RCGA board of directors. Lee Iacocca, chairman of the board of the Chrysler Corp., also was seated at the head table. He had accompanied the president on the tour of the Fenton plant.

More than 4,000 businessmen and women attended the luncheon, which honored the small businesses in the metropolitan area.

Reagan clarified the sentence, "We in government must take the lead in restoring the economy," which he used in the State of the Union address last week.

"Some people seemed to think I was advocating a return to the old ways, the president said. "I meant, government was largely responsible for creating the economic mess of recent years; now it must recognize that and start undoing the damage it has done."

He cited the drop in inflation from 12.4 to 3.9 percent and the lowering of the prime interest rate from 21.5 to the present 11 percent as examples of how his administration has taken the lead in the economy's recovery.

president gave a brief speech and fielded questions from several of the 4,000 businessmen and women attending the affair at the Cervantes Convention Center in downtown St. Louis. At lower right is Senator John Danforth (R-Missouri).

Seek lawyers to work with aging

Peg R. Blaser, Director of the Illinois Department on Aging, announced today that the department is working with the State Bar Association to recruit private attorneys interested in volunteering their services to seniors in the area who are on small fixed incomes and cannot afford a lawyer.

"Though persons 60 and over may already receive services through Legal Assistance Corporation of offices located around the state, we feel that it is important to identify other supplementary sources of assistance, particularly in the event that federal funding for legal assistance programs is reduced," she said.

"A number of attorneys, many of whom are seniors themselves, have informed the department that they will take referrals to aid senior citizens in particular areas of the state. It is encouraging to know that we can again count on volunteers to provide support to the Aging Network in Illinois."

Mrs. Blaser said that, like lawyers working in offices established by the Legal Assistance Corporation, private attorneys providing voluntary service would advise the elderly on matters relating to government benefits, health insurance, real estate, landlord-tenant, age discrimination, guardianship rights and consumer fraud and exploitation.

"If older persons do have legal problems, they should contact their Area Agency on Aging to find out what legal services are available in their area," Mrs. Blaser said. "The Area Agency can inform them where the nearest legal assistance program is located and whether any private attorneys in the area have volunteered to aid seniors with legal problems."

Mrs. Blaser added that private attorneys interested in providing pro bono services through the department's volunteer program may contact George E. Mittelmann, legal services developer, Illinois Department on Aging, 53 West Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill. 60604, telephone 1-312-793-2630.

The authorized Department on Aging office for this area is the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, Roosevelt J. Peabody, executive director, 8787 State St., Suite 200, East St. Louis, Ill., 62203, telephone 1-397-4118.

ARRESTED FOR TWO GC THEFT ATTEMPTS

Anthony Ray Schellhardt, 17, of 2908 Dale Ave. was charged last week with attempted petty theft at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 14 and with assault and attempted petty theft at 7:40 p.m. Jan. 14.

In the first incident, a knife allegedly was flourished toward a woman who followed an effort to take her purse in the National grocery parking lot. A half-hour later, at 21st Street and Grand Avenue, a man who had been ordered to hand over currency instead dropped coins and ran to a nearby office for help as a youth fled.

A burglar who forced a door took $200 worth of kitchen items, a $200 portable sewing machine, a $50 pocket watch, calculators worth $25 and $10, two vacuum cleaners, two sets of stainless steel flatware, a beef hind quarter, a cassette radio, a ring and a jar of pennies last week at the Donald Wickham home, 13 Briarcliff.

Bi-State replacing all scratched bus windows

The Bi-State Development Agency has begun a program to replace scratched plastic bus windows in 614 older Bi-State transit buses with tinted safety glass. This program, along with a recently completed seat refurbishment program, is designed to improve the appeal of bus transportation for the public and reduce Bi-State's maintenance costs.

Bi-State repairmen are removing the original Lexan plastic windows and gaskets and replacing them with brown tinted automotive-type safety glass in 232 AM General and 382 Flexible buses. Over time, the plastic windows have become severely scratched through general wear and tear and the brushes on Bi-State's automatic bus washers. The windows give the outward appearance that the buses are dirty when, in fact, they are thoroughly cleaned inside and out each evening. The scratched windows also have made it very difficult for passengers to see out. By replacing the plastic windows with safety glass, the problem of further scratching is eliminated. Also, by using tinted replacement windows, bus air conditioning should be more effective.

The $668,307 capital project is being 80 percent funded by a federal grant, and 20 percent by local capital funds. Capital funds cannot be used to pay costs of day-to-day operation, but are restricted to equipment purchases and building construction. Buses are being retrofitted with the new windows at the rate of two or three a day at Bi-State's main repair shops, 3839 Park Avenue. The entire program, which has just begun, will take approximately 14 months to complete. When finished, the retrofitted buses will join 171, 1981 GMC glass windowed buses in regular passenger service.

ARRESTED AT BAR FACES TWO CHARGES

Madison police arrested Eddie Burnell Ray, 30, of 904 Alton Ave., last week after he allegedly started a fight with another patron at Debbie's 12th Street Lounge, 1226 Madison Ave.

When police arrived, Ray was being restrained by two other patrons. Police allege that as they tried to handcuff Ray, he fought them and was wrestled to the floor. One officer received a small laceration to his forehead and a slight thumb injury. Force was needed to subdue Ray, officers said.

He allegedly became unruly during booking at police headquarters and swung a fist at an officer. Ray was charged with fighting and resisting arrest and was released on $100 cash bond.

A separate report said that Ray notified police that his automobile was damaged the same day as it was parked on the lot at Debbie's Lounge.

Trades concessions save 679 state jobs

Governor James R. Thompson has signed an agreement with AFL-CIO representatives from the building trades to save 140 construction jobs in state government.

The $19.9 million agreement calls for the current 40-hour work week to be reduced to 32 hours for all prevailing rate positions in the Department of Mental Health and the Department of Rehabilitation Services, a total of about 670 positions. The agreement runs from Feb. 1 through July 31, 1983.

"The current fiscal problems we face in Illinois require us to find innovative ways to protect as many jobs as possible while living within our fiscal restraints," the governor said.

"This agreement upholds the prevailing rate concept and keeps people from the unemployment line. The labor representatives who worked with us on this approach are to be commended for their cooperation and negotiation in this area."

"A special thanks should go to the nearly 700 men and women in these two departments who have given part of their work week so that 140 of their fellow workers can continue to work and provide services rather than being laid off under recent powers the Legislature granted to the Governor in Senate Bill 1652," Thompson said.

The agreement applies to 645 prevailing rate positions in the Department of Mental Health and 25 in the Department of Rehabilitation Services. The terms of the agreement allow the provisions for a reduced work week to be extended to other agencies if prevailing rates jobs can be saved from layoff.

Occupational titles covered by the agreement include painters, stationary engineers, firemen, plumbers, electricians, carpenters, steamfitters, laborers and others. Those groups represent approximately 1,009 employees statewide.

Teamsters to aid child

Teamsters in Illinois will be aiding Teamsters Local 618 (St. Louis and Franklin, Jefferson, Warren, St. Charles and St. Louis counties) in selling tickets for a benefit buffet dinner Feb. 13.

A Cakhia infant is in need of costly liver transplant surgery to be performed as soon as she has gained more weight.

The dinner tickets cost $10 each and checks are being made out to the Amy Lynn Hardin Trust Fund at the Dupo State Savings Bank, Dupo.

The dinner will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 13, at the Teamsters' Council Plaza Hall, 300 S. Grand, St. Louis, with a capacity of 900 persons at one time.

About $250,000 is being raised by various groups to finance the operation. A dance band will play at the benefit dinner and those attending will include Karen Foss of Channel 5 and Susan Kidd of Channel 2.

GC man charged by Madison police

Mark Steven Buster, 20, of 2581 Spalding Ave., was arrested in the early hours during the weekend when an officer alleged Buster was driving south on Madison Avenue at 12th Street at a high rate of speed, with the driver revving the engine and spinning the tires.

Buster was stopped in the 200 block of Madison Avenue and produced an Illinois traffic citation, dated Oct. 26, 1982, which was almost illegible.

At Madison police headquarters, Buster allegedly began cursing the officer, using obscene language, and he had not been speeding and threatened to "get the job" of the arresting officer.

Buster then stood up, grabbed his coat and reportedly began to walk out of the interrogation room. In the station hallway, the man again threatened the officer and pushed him, while continuing to yell obscenities, it was alleged.

He was booked on state charges of resisting a peace officer and disorderly conduct, as well as speeding and careless driving. He was released three hours later on payment of a $102 cash bond.

SEMC to sponsor blood drive Friday

Donors should be between the ages of 17 and 65 and have no history of hepatitis, cancer or heart disease. Persons 65 and older need the written consent of their physician, dated within four weeks.

Free parking is available. Donors may have their garage parking tickets validated by the nurse after giving blood. For more information, donors may call 789-3028.

Determine cause of woman's death

After extensive research and tests, Dr. Harry Parks, pathologist for Madison County, reports an unusual heart condition was the cause of death of Mrs. Deborah (Larner) Conway, 32, of 2324 Arnold Drive, on Sept. 25, 1982.

She was taken from her home by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was pronounced dead at 11:21 a.m.

According to a Madison County deputy coroner, Mrs. Conway died of a heart condition that can become fatal within a few hours. Mrs. Conway did not have a history of any heart ailment, the deputy coroner noted.

TAKE RINGS, WATCH

Several pieces of jewelry were stolen in a burglary at the home of Dean Boyer, 30 Miami Court, reported at 5:55 p.m. Tuesday. Missing were a 25-year inscribed wristwatch from Granite City Steel, a flat gold box, a watch, a ring, and an earring with diamond chips. Entry was gained through an attached garage and by breaking an inside door window.

END OF A LANDMARK. The Reese Drugs sign at the store at 1322 Niedringhaus Ave. comes down yesterday after standing, once majestically, over the downtown area for approximately a half-century. A spokesman said the store is not going out of business, but is being changed to a store supplying special equipment for convalescent care.

Fuel truck overturns, driver hurt

A potentially dangerous spill of number six diesel fuel was avoided by workers who quickly transferred the cargo (runway farm toy) tanker truck on Route 111 north of Sand Prairie Lane into another truck yesterday morning.

Richard Hazard, 28, St. Louis, the driver of the truck which overturned, was injured and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

He told authorities that he was driving south on Route 111 when he swerved to avoid a vehicle on his side of the road. The truck went into the shoulder and overturned into a ditch.

The Edwardsville resident then turned onto Maryville Road and went to the nearby home of an off-duty police officer, who is a family friend, where she arrived with the second car still following.

The officer reported going outside the house after hearing a horn sounding and recognizing Miss Schmidt, when the occupants of a second auto began laughing loudly.

The vehicle then accelerated, with the driver appealing to lose control, causing it to slide sideways and almost hit the officer, who was standing near the street, he alleged.

The auto left heading west in the 3300 block of Waterman Avenue and then returned, going south on Maryville Road, he said. A check of the area by officers failed to locate the car.

About an hour later, a sheriff's deputy reported seeing the vehicle with two women inside on Lake Drive and took the driver, Mary White, into custody for Granite City police.

Laclede local to vote on agreement changes

A special two-session meeting on proposed changes in the current collective bargaining agreement will be held Saturday, Feb. 5, for members of Laclede Steel's Local 3643, United Steel Workers of America, at Laclede Steel's plant in Laclede.

Paul Aldridge, Local 3643 president, said the meeting will convene at 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. He is urging all members to make every effort to attend.

A vote will be taken at those times on a proposal to change the current agreement, he announced.

Aldridge noted since the capacity of Hawthay Hall is 1,000 seats, those who are able might consider attending the afternoon meeting in order to accommodate all local members.

Local 3643 has more than 2,200 members, including several from the Quad-City area who were transferred to Laclede's plant at Altoon from the now-closed Madison steel plant.

About 1,300 Local 3643 members presently are working, Aldridge said.

Madison firefighters now protect Venice Township

Venice Township residents now receive fire protection from the Madison Fire Department and will begin service from the Madison Ambulance Service March 1.

Under new agreements with the Venice Town Board, Madison began fire protection Tuesday to the unincorporated areas of the township, including the Bloodworth and Benjamin additions, Rock Road, Slough Road, Canal Road and others.

The agreements do not include areas which have their own fire protection, including the city of Venice, Cloverleaf Addition and Eagle Park Acres.

A Federal Revenue Sharing grant from the township to the city was responsible for the change. The township is purchasing an ambulance for Madison's ambulance service.

Effective immediately, Venice township residents reporting a fire should call 876-6300. After March 1, the same number may be used for ambulance service.

The agreements do not include areas which have their own fire protection, including the city of Venice, Cloverleaf Addition and Eagle Park Acres.

Madison aldermen draw straws for seats

By PAT HAY LUTZ for the Press-Record

Madison City Council members voted Tuesday to adopt an ordinance which designates the aldermen for the newly-redistricted wards in Madison. The redistricting reduces the number of wards from five to four and, in turn, reduces the number of aldermen from five to four.

As designated in the ordinance, straws were drawn between aldermen for Wards Two and Three to determine who would become aldermen-at-large. Alderman Mike Sikora of Ward Two, whose term expires in April, 1983, and Alderman Ida Dant of Ward Three, whose term expires in April, 1985, were selected as the aldermen-at-large.

Sikora previously announced that he plans to retire from the council at the end of the year.

Elmer Smith and Christ Costello remain as aldermen for the Second Ward, while William Gushieff and Thomas Gordon are the aldermen for Ward Three. As indicated in the ordinance, eight aldermen and one alderman-at-large will govern after April, 1983, and the final alderman-at-large will leave office after April, 1985.

In other business, Mayor Mike Sasyk indicated that persons installing wood-burning devices in their homes can receive a free safety inspection. According to Sasyk, three house fires in the past six weeks were caused by the faulty installation of wood-burning stoves and he received approval from the council to waive the fee on the building permit which would permit proper inspection of any installation.

"All we'd be worried about is the inspection of the safety of the wood-burning apparatus," Sasyk said. "We don't need to pass an ordinance unless we have problems in doing this. I don't think we need to charge those few dollars for the service in this situation," he added.

The council also voted to enter into contracts with Illinois Bell and Illinois Power which would allow those companies to prepare utility poles for the security alarm system to be installed by the city. Work on the security system, which would connect business operators and certain residents to a central system at the police station, should begin within 90 days, or immediately after those companies complete the necessary preparations for the installation of the cable, aldermen were told.

Alderman William Gushieff reported that at least four names of veterans who served in World War II were omitted from the memorial plaque in the Madison Recreation Center. The plaque, which is inscribed with the names of men and women who served during the war, was dedicated immediately after the war.

Gushieff asks that any World War II veteran from Madison whose name may have been omitted contact the police department or Gushieff himself at 877-5492.

"We'd like to honor all of those who served in that war," he explained. "I just hate to see anyone denied recognition of his service."

The council also discussed the possibility of erecting a monument in front of the Recreation Center which would honor Madison veterans of the Korean War.

How deeply were 1983-84 Granite City school programs cut Tuesday night?

Severely, but without damaging the instructional program, school officials believe.

The 12 cutbacks under consideration were:

1. Merging of the two high schools into one, for an estimated saving of $1,300,000 a year. This was approved.

2. Consolidation of three junior highs into two, $400,000 saving, approved.

3. Consolidation of grade schools, closing four for a $740,000 saving, approved.

4. Increasing to a class size range of 30 to 35, saving of $536,000 or more, approved.

5. Eliminating elementary band programs, $45,300, approved.

6. Grade school adjustments, including deletion of physical education, $196,300, approved.

7. Reducing the number of vocational music instruction $151,000, learning centers $196,300, assigning one principal to each two grade schools, saving of $131,700, and elementary nurses, $30,000; these deletions were not approved and the services will continue.

8. Although the programs will remain, there will be savings because less personnel will be utilized to serve nine grade schools compared to the present 13 grade schools.

9. Special education services, $150,000 cut, not approved; will continue as now provided.

10. Reduction of extracurricular activities, $56,000, not approved; will continue.

11. Limiting office and student-related supplies and materials to $25 per pupil. Based on an enrollment of 9,500, this would save $225,000. No decision was announced.

12. An alternate day, full-day kindergarten schedule, instead of a half-day class every day, $26,000 saving.

These decisions resulted in savings of more than $3 million, while not authorizing other cutbacks that would have exceeded $1 million.

A listing of the ages of school buildings as of June 1983 shows that North, to be closed, is ten years old and South, to remain open, is 59.

Among junior high schools, Coolidge is 28 years old, Fraher 23 and Grigsby, 17. All three buildings will continue to be utilized, but Fraher will become an elementary school serving the Logan area.

The ages of elementary schools being closed are: Emerson, 86; Nameoki, 58; Logan 28; Lake, 23; and Johnson, 11.

Ages of grade schools remaining in use are: Parkway 17, Wilson and student-related supplies and materials to $25 per pupil. Based on an enrollment of 9,500, this would save $225,000. No decision was announced.

teaching posts.

With enrollment and resources both decreasing, the Board of Education concluded that major cutbacks were unavoidable, there not only will be fewer schools open in the fall of 1983 but also many fewer personnel.

However, an effort was made to continue all programs associated with educational quality and opportunity.

Various new projects were discussed and members elected to sponsor a run-a-mile sale in the spring months and a church bazaar next fall.

A "white elephant" auction was planned for the March 28 meeting, with Mrs. Dorothy Lakin serving as auctioneer.

The second chapter of Hebrews was studied in the devotional period, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Phyllis Allen and Mrs. Bonnie Davis.

Others present were Mesdames Sue Roe, Marge Glasgow, JoAnn Buday, Lillian Barton, Opal Orrell, Norma Tolbert, Doris Glasgow, Dot Smith, Mary Sisson, Mary Buday, Grace Sisson and Helen McMath, a guest.

6 schools to close

a declining enrollment, the district must seek still deeper reductions if it intends to remain financially solvent.

"My report is in its present form only after months of input, work and deliberation. All segments of the general community and the school community were solicited for their input."

"All of the suggested ideas and alternatives were studied and discussed. The reductions represent a composite of ideas."

"Some alternatives were not accepted because of mandates placed on the district to offer certain services. Others were not used because the financial savings would be greater through those chosen, with less disruption of the educational programs."

"Where building consolidations are concerned, the decisions were based on not only financial consideration but enrollment trends and preservation of programs," Davis asserted.

"Better utilization of buildings will help in staff utilization and pupil distribution."

"These decisions were not easy, and many different patterns were considered."

"Quality education was of uppermost importance in all decisions. Addition of this priority, all programs will be retained except for elementary band and this can be offered after school."

"Elementary learning centers, physical education and vocal music will still be in place."

"A full suite of special education programs will still be offered. Education programs will be followed closely and the pupils. Curriculum offerings will remain."

"These programs will still allow opportunities for pupils to receive a good education. The integrity of the educational programs will be maintained."

"The major reductions are incorporated in this report. Other areas, including possible further administrative and non-instructional reductions, will receive attention during this coming month."

"Continual monitoring of all expenditures will be followed closely and, where possible, additional savings will be obtained."

"In addition to reductions listed in the report, we hope to see that the revenues will aid in further reducing the deficits we now have."

"Steps taken tonight will not solve all the financial problems. It took several years for this problem to develop, and it will take time to resolve the present dilemma."

"However, these reductions will lead to a more financially responsible position."

"An improvement in the economy will bring relief to all sources now supplying the revenues for the schools. This, in turn, will bring relief to this school district."

"Recommendations should go to the staff and public for their genuine concern and input; to the administrative staff for the many long hours of work and dedication to finishing the task; and to the Board of Education for the many hours of deliberation encompassed in an undertaking of this magnitude."

"The discussions they have gone through in trying to seek a fair and just way of making the necessary reductions have not always been easy, but they have been earnest and sincere."

"Recommended reductions for the 1983-84 school year are closing of North Emerson, Johnson, Lake, Logan and Nameoki. Prather, adjacent to Logan, is to be closed as a junior high and is to become an elementary center."

An initial computer listing of staff reductions showed a 193 figure but totaled 212.

The 212 was corrected to 203 yesterday morning, with the number of teacher dismissals changed from 145 to 136.

Also shown were dismissal of nine administrators, 15 secretaries, 26 custodians, 13 cafeteria workers and four other employees (monitors and teaching aides).

Supt. Davis concluded, "Net savings are projected to be $3,831,400 in the 1983-84 school year."

"With additional anticipated revenue—$300,000 in taxes due to the multiplier, and $150,000 in reimbursement to be paid to the district by the state—the total budgeted difference for next year should approximate $4,281,400."

The district estimates that its budget imbalance is $5 million a year. It projects that the borrowing this year will total $7,700,000 in the education fund (including $1,700,000 in second-year tax warrants) and more than $500,000 in the building fund.

The estimated net education fund saving in 1983-84, stemming from the school closings and staff reductions ordered Tuesday night, takes into account unemployment pay, unused earned absence payments and other costs related to staff dismissals. In the 1984-85 year, savings would be greater if other factors remain constant.

Board Member Dewey Melton said during the meeting, "In fairness to my fellow board members and to myself, and with regard to those who like to spread news before it becomes news, and with consideration for my friends and perhaps former friends, I want to publicly explain my position on this proposal."

"Before I do, I want to give respect to this proposal of the majority, to each member who favors it, and to the process by which this proposal was derived."

"I believe each member approached this decision with as much thought, concern and deliberation as I did."

"It is possible, even likely, that someone else could look at the same data and yet reach differing conclusions. This is the case with this board."

"I cannot vote positively for this proposal for two primary reasons. First, this is a proposal that fosters unnecessary crowding at the secondary level."

"It is a plan that does not use, for District Nine purposes, one of the finest educational facilities we have, the North High School building."

"Secondly, my analysis of cash flow indicates that this proposal, while radically different in configuration from present schools, will not stem the tide of accumulated indebtedness."

"Instead, it will allow the education fund to sink deeper into debt, near or beyond the $9 million mark by the end of the 1983-84 school year without a significant, if any, turnaround."

"This cash flow analysis was done using estimates furnished to me by the administration to each board member, and with an assumption that this district will receive in succeeding years the same level of income that we expect to receive next year."

"In truth, income could be greater than estimated. It could be less. No one knows."

"Recent state funding patterns would not suggest that income would be greater."

"If, however, these estimates and assumptions are correct, this plan will burden the taxpayers of this district with inter-departmental transfers of half-million dollars or more each year for the foreseeable future."

"I see no way under this plan to eliminate debt without a large property tax increase, a significant increase in state funding, and/or the sale of a major district asset worth several million dollars. None of these can I reasonably forecast."

"If none of these happen, how can our employees reasonably expect to receive a salary and deserved wage increases? How can the students of our community look forward to the restoration of services?"

"This enormous and long-term indebtedness leaves this school district vulnerable to the vagaries and imprecision of school financing, especially the oft-times 'phantom' state funding we've seen the last few years."

"The adoption of this plan is a risk that I'm unwilling to endorse."

"With all due respect to my fellow board members, but because I find this plan educationally unreasonable, especially at the secondary level, and because I consider it fiscally imprudent, I must cast my vote—No."

The board transacted regular business before reviewing Davis' report. In an executive session, which also included discussion of litigation, Members then resumed their open meeting and the superintendent officially submitted his recommendations.

Worthen said the board's goal throughout several months of study has been to maintain a high quality of instruction and in general to avoid more than 90 percent utilization of schools' capacity.

Several echoed his comments and Moore said board members have shown no selfish motives and have constantly tried to determine "what is best for the children."

Partney said he has stressed that "you cannot borrow yourself out of debt."

After Melton presented his position, Maxwell had him clarify that Melton was not urging assignment of high school students to more than one building.

A citizen attempted to say that the board was curtailing many programs, which board members disputed, and that the superintendent was not actively seeking legislative remedies, which Davis disputed.

Worthen stated as priorities the educational programs, fiscal integrity and utilization of facilities.

It was later estimated that the reorganization will result in usage ranging from 75 to 91 percent of capacity at the various buildings.

In the 5-2 roll call, the two negative votes were cast by Melton and Worthen. Although some of the cutbacks had been expected, many in the audience seemed shocked at the immediate results of the changes. Deputies, however, the exact combination of cuts had remained unknown publicly until this week.

Administrators and board members talked informally afterward with employees and parents who had gathered at the Board of Education building. A hallway outside the meeting room had been filled with people trying to hear what was being said inside.

Teachers indicated that they hope to persuade the board not to increase average class size as much as is being projected, since the number of pupils affects how much time can be spent with each pupil. Davis remarked that most classes are likely to have 32 students or less.

Davis told newsmen that second-year borrowing is "not a good business practice" and is only resorted to in a time of crisis. With a $29 million annual budget, a recession and numerous state and federal cuts, a crisis has developed, he commented.

Plant closings and families' moves have affected the tax base, enrollment and state aid, the superintendent related. He said massive, complex and diverse studies have been made over a period of months to take "a big bite" out of the debt with the least adverse impact on effective teaching.

Stucke speculated that a tax election may be held after the district has made progress in decreasing usage of facilities and lowering related operating costs.

He also said he foresees further major cost reductions in the future to begin cutting debt, but that the impact of the closings voted Tuesday night may be too much for any one year.

Davis said that many of the students will attend Prather, with some Emerson pupils going to Niedringhaus and others to Prather.

Lake area students may go to Parkview and Wilson, and Nameoki pupils to Maryville and Mitchell, he added. Detailed boundary decisions remain to be made.

He said various buildings will be "warehoused" for potential future use as schools.

National Steel

solidated operations, $286 million from the anticipated loss on the Weirton transaction, and $190 million from the write-off of permanently idled facilities and other non-recurring charges.

These pre-tax losses were offset by a pre-tax gain of $186 million from the liquidation of LIFO inventories, which includes a $44-million liquidation gain from a change in the method of calculating inventory.

Revenues in the fourth quarter were $664.9 million, down 29 percent from $937.4 million in the comparable 1981 quarter. For the year, revenues declined 26 percent to $3.1 billion, versus $4.2 billion in 1981.

The $286 million provision for the proposed sale of the Weirton Steel Division includes the anticipated loss on the sale of Weirton's assets and the future cost to National Steel of paying pension and other employee benefit liabilities which National will retain.

"The broad outlines of a potential agreement are clear enough at this time to reflect the anticipated impact of the Weirton sale in National's 1982 results. Although the final agreement has yet been reached, we expect one soon," said Howard M. Love, chairman and chief executive officer. Details of the agreement are to be provided when it is concluded.

"In 1982, effective cash management programs have begun to counteract the severe impact of the recession on the company."

"Inventories were sharply reduced through more effective production planning and control. Short-term bank borrowings were eliminated at year-end and nationals revolving credit line was increased to $265 million, none of which was in use at Dec. 31. Long-term debt decreased from $676.7 million to $672.1 million."

"The corporation further strengthened its financial position with sale of $46 million of common shares of its subsidiary, FN Financial Corp., in December 1982 and the sale of $5 million of National's convertible preferred stock in January 1983," Love added.

In portion of the proceeds from sale of FN Financial stock is expected to substantially fulfill the capital contribution National is required to make to FN Financial in 1983 under terms savings and loan firms.

National's holding of FN Financial stock was reduced from 100 percent to 82 percent by the stock sale.

Also in January, National filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission for a proposed exchange of up to 800,000 shares of its common stock for up to $22 million of first mortgage bonds.

"We expect a modest recovery in the economy, mainly during the second half of 1983, but the first half of the year will be difficult."

"Customer inventories now are in better balance with production. The recovery should be led by the auto, truck and service center sectors where National steel is well positioned," Love said.

National's six lines of business were reorganized in the 1982 third quarter into self-contained profit centers.

The Steel Group includes National's four steel plants and its iron ore, limestone and steamship operations.

The operating loss for the steel group, exclusive of non-recurring plant written and LIFO adjustments, was $47.1 million in the fourth quarter and $261.7 million for the year.

Two back-to-back recession years for the steel industry plunged steel demand to new lows in 1982, severely reducing prices, production and employment.

These factors, along with higher levels of steel import penetration, resulted in substantial losses for the year.

Despite these conditions, fundamental changes were made in the Steel Group's direction, operations and organization in 1982 which prepare it for a return to profitability, Love said.

National Steel's marketing strategy produced good results and gains were made in quality and delivery performance, he added.

Compared with 1981, the Steel Group's production declined 33 percent in 1982 to 5.5 million tons; shipments decreased 25 percent to 5 million tons; employment at year-end declined 23 percent to 17,100 people; and inventories of steel and raw materials were reduced 25 percent.

GC aldermen reinstate expense allowances, then borrow money

An emergency resolution to borrow up to $500,000 in $100,000 portions as needed was approved unanimously Tuesday at the Granite City Council session.

The measure was accepted after some members debated the need for future cuts to achieve a 1983-84 balanced budget. The current budget was passed last summer with an expected deficit.

Before acting on the borrowing resolution, aldermen emerged from a closed executive session to announce a $4,500 annual pay increase, effective May 1 for the superintendent of streets. Aldermen also reinstated immediately a $50-per-month expense account for themselves. Both motions were passed unanimously.

Sixth Ward Alderman Walter Milton, finance committee chairman, said the superintendent's salary — among the lower salaries paid department heads — had to be approved now to abide by time restraint requiring the salary of elected officials to be adjusted 60 days prior to an election.

Although Mac Warfield, superintendent of streets, must run in the April 12 election, he is nearly assured of re-election, since he faces no challengers.

His salary will be hiked from $20,000 a year, plus $1,200 in expenses, to a straight $28,000 annual salary.

Commenting on the reinstatement of the aldermen's $50 monthly expense allowances, Milton said the council voluntarily decided to give up the payments in 1981 and that aldermen now wanted their expense allowances back.

The allowances were discontinued when the city exhausted its revenues and subsequently laid off 18 employees.

Besides the monthly expense account, members also receive $225 per month, or $75 per meeting, depending on attendance. Aldermen receive no payments for special or committee meetings.

During the borrowing debate, Second Ward Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman renewed his call for cuts to balance the budget, a stance he has taken for more than a year of financial talks. "When the (1983-84) budget comes up, you've got to remember how you're feeling right now," he said.

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitner said promises of a balanced budget sound good, but wondered where future cuts could be made. Whitner, chairman of the ambulance committee, said no more cuts can be made in the city's police and fire departments, suggesting cuts instead in the street department.

Full house for school board decision

Spectators crowd the board room, below, and overflow into the lobby of the Granite City School District 9 office building, right, at Tuesday night's school board meeting. Board members approved, by a vote of 5-2, recommended cuts in spending which will result in the closing of six schools and reducing the staff by 193.

Study of treatment plant staffing nears conclusion

Granite City aldermen have been grappling with the question of sanitary sewer rates increases and staffing numbers at the city's Wastewater Treatment Plant for years. At last, some of their questions might be answered later this month.

Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk, pollution plant chairman, told aldermen to expect a written independent report on the plant in about two weeks from CTS Clark Dietz Engineers Division.

Some aldermen had been pointing to a "lack of credibility" in information for their refusal to support a sewage treatment rate hike. Ranges for a residential rate hike have varied from about $4.50 to $9 per quarter. Residents now are charged $13 per quarter.

On Feb. 28, Fisk plans to hold a lengthy special meeting to hear oral reports from both Clark Dietz and from Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, engineers. Clark Dietz will discuss staffing, equipment and management at the plant, while Sverdrup & Parcel will outline plant user charges, if one or both of the Glen Carbon and Metro-East Sanitary District sewer systems link to the Granite City plant.

Both studies are being funded primarily by 75 percent grants from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA).

The discussion may help council members decide which estimates on the number of employees needed to keep the local plant in operation are correct. Opinions have varied from 16 to 26. A contract with workers, not due to expire until May, states that the staff will remain at 26 and no layoffs will occur without just reason.

Fisk used an IEPA letter, giving the results of the plant's final grant inspection, to give a "pat on the back" to the sometimes controversial wastewater treatment employees. According to the IEPA letter from Eugene Seebald, Division of Water Pollution Control, "In general, the operations of the facility (are) satisfactory, considering the equipment malfunctions, the influent characteristics, and the solids handling problems which have plagued the facility since its installation."

Seebald was referring to the plant's problem with industrial "midnight dumpers" who deposit substances harmful to the plant and to problems with sludge disposal.

"The operating staff is to be commended for their efforts in operating and maintaining the facility," Seebald wrote.

In his letter, however, he outlined several problems, many structural, that must be corrected before the IEPA will turn over to the city a $100,000 final grant construction payment and finally approve the project. If the city does not complete the suggested corrections, the IEPA could take the extreme measure of demanding that the city repay the government for the plant's construction.

Terrance McMillan, plant superintendent, said structural problems at the plant might eventually result in legal action.

Other problems might make the city eligible for further grant monies. Fisk hoped that one result of the upcoming engineering reports may be to let the city know how to correct conditions at the plant and what direction to look for the money.

"We don't really have that much of a problem," Fisk contended.

MAN, 62, RUNS FROM GC STORE

The alleged theft of a hot water valve valued at $5.29 resulted in the arrest during the weekend of William P. Kemper, 62, of 2450 Cleveland, who was charged with retail theft and released on payment of a $100 cash bond after he ran from the Central Hardware parking lot in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center and was caught in 3400 block of Princeton Drive.

Kemper, who first was stopped in the parking lot by a Central security officer, was taken to the K-Mart store and was pursued by the hardware store's automotive manager. Officers were called and found Kemper and the manager walking on Princeton Drive, the report stated.

2-year sentence on weapon charge

A two-year Illinois penitentiary term has been ordered for Richard Sweezy, 45, St. Louis, for unlawful use of a weapon in Granite City.

Circuit Judge Philip Rarick presided. Date of the offense was not given, but the charge was filed Oct. 1, 1982, with sentencing later in the year.

Police said Sweezy came to Granite City and met two 16-year-old girls. On the evening he arrived here, one of the girls was with him and the other was away from home with permission.

They went for a ride and Sweezy began to brag about his exploits. He told of being a robber and showed them a handgun which authorities later found had the identification number filed off.

Currency totaling $1,100 in his possession, which police halted his car at Niedringhaus Avenue and Benton Street at midnight. At 1:30 p.m., when officers searched the trunk of the auto to find the runaway girl's suitcase, they located 36 new $10 bills having consecutive serial numbers.

Officers' suspicions had been aroused when they were told that a Missouri motorist "with a carload of kids" was driving in the 1900 block alley between Benton and Cleveland Blvd. late at night. Police began to stop sign on Benton at 10th, they gave pursuit and stopped it a block later. One girl tried to hide in the back seat but was placed in custody along with Sweezy and the other girl.

Two persons in the front seat had been seen placing something beneath the seat, and an open case of beer was found. As the police continued their search of the vehicle, they located a loaded .38-caliber revolver.

When Sweezy was found to have two on his person and a said he was unemployed, officers contacted Missouri authorities who had been had been convicted in the past of robbery, burglary, attempted burglary, armed robbery, fraudulent activity and a weapon offense.

Arrest man, 22, on two warrants

Mark R. Donihann, 22, of 644 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, was brought to Granite City police headquarters late last week by a Madison County sheriff's deputy in response to the issuance of two warrants for Donihann's arrest.

The warrants charged Donihann with violation of a Domestic Violence Act Order of Protection and criminal damage to property. The latter charge related to an incident earlier this month.

Donihann allegedly went to the Granite City home of his former wife, Terry, a week ago, and threatened and intimidated her, resulting in the order of protection violation being charged.

Donihann appeared before a judge at Granite City police headquarters and bond was set at $3,000. He was transferred to Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Truckers locally report no problems

There have not been any reports of violence against truck drivers "anywhere" in the local area, reports the Illinois State Police in Maryville.

But elsewhere in the country, one driver was fatally shot, 27 persons have been injured and more than 300 trucks damaged since the nationwide strike by independent truck drivers started Monday morning. The fatality occurred Monday night when a driver was shot in the neck while driving through North Carolina. The first serious injury to a trucker was reported earlier Monday in Utah.

In this region, a brick was dropped through the windshield of a truck near Mount Vernon Tuesday night. The driver was not injured. Nails had to be swept from an exit driveway of a truck stop in Mount Vernon twice Tuesday night, sources said.

A shot fired from a passing station wagon barely missed the front tire of a truck near Interstate 70 and 270 in west St. Louis County this week. Five other trucks were struck by gunfire on Missouri highways Tuesday and yesterday.

The strike was called at 12:01 a.m. Monday by the Independent Truckers' Association to protest the increase in the gasoline tax and highway-use fees, which truckers say will hurt them financially.

While trucks on Monday morning were moving steadily in Southern Illinois, some areas have reported slowdowns as the strike has progressed. Spokesmen for the independent truckers have said that most truckers intend to deliver final shipments and then will stay at home, rather than park their rigs at truck stops and roadides in organized protest.

A spokesman for the Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza Inc. south of Madison told the Press-Record yesterday, "We're remaining neutral on this. We don't believe you people (the media) should stir up so much controversy. More is reported on TV than what's really happening."

He would not comment on how business was at the truck plaza. Other truckstop operators have reported slowdowns, but truckers still are using such facilities.

Various parts of the state report a decline in trucks on the roads. Across the nation, slowdowns have been reported and police are investigating at least 50 attacks on rigs in 22 states.

The strike is not expected to affect goods that are trucked to markets for at least a week.

Ebrecht performs at New York

Ronald Ebrecht, a former Granite City resident and member of the American Music Theater Group of Middletown, Conn., recently accompanied the group on organ at a concert in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

"New York Times" reviewer John Rockwell praised the group's performance which was conducted by Neely Bruce. Of Ebrecht's performance he said, "On the whole, the solo organ selections went best."

Ebrecht is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. (Martha) Ebrecht, 2628 E. 29th St., and a 1971 graduate of Granite City High School, where he accompanied the Madrigals. Presently, he is choir-master of St. Rose's Church in Meriden, Conn. After attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Ebrecht went to Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, where he received a bachelor of music degree. From there, Ebrecht went to Yale University in New Haven, Conn., where he completed his master of music degree. After studying at the Schola Cantorum in Paris, Ebrecht returned to the United States in 1980, when he took his present post.

Former resident to begin third novel

Kevin McIlvoy, a former Granite City resident, who currently is visiting assistant professor of English at New Mexico State University, has received a National Endowment for the Arts Creative Writing Fellowship grant of $12,500.

A portion of the grant will be used by McIlvoy this summer as he begins work on his third novel and rewrites part of his novel, "Fifth Station." McIlvoy received the grant on the basis of the novel "Shakino Gang," under consideration for publication. A collection of short stories, "The Rhino in the Barn," is also being considered by a publisher.

McIlvoy also is the author of "The Waltz," a novel published by Lynx House Press in 1981. The same year, he joined the staff of NMSU. He also has had short stories published in magazines including "Kansas Quarterly," "MSS," "Mid-American Review" and "Northwest Review."

The 30-year-old professor-author is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell (Martha) McIlvoy, 62 Riviera Drive. He graduated from Granite City High School in 1971.

Additional retirements scheduled

Thirteen Granite City school employees' early retirement plans were approved by the Board of Education on Tuesday night. Among them were Charles R. Weiss, principal of Grigsby Junior High School, and Joseph S. Fedora, administrative assistant for athletics and physical education. Both plan to retire at the end of the 1985-86 school year.

Previously, retirement plans were approved for such officials as Vasil Etmoff, administrative assistant for pupil personnel services, and Joseph S. Fedora, administrative assistant for athletics and physical education. Both plan to retire at the end of the 1985-86 school year.

Present board policies allow for payment of unused earned absences to be distributed over a period of years as retirement approaches. Approval of a future effective date does not guarantee that an individual will retain a particular work assignment.

Weiss has been with the district for 24 years. He attributes the "sound educational program to a very professional staff, cooperative parents, and leadership provided by the Board of Education."

By July 1986, Fedora will have 30 years of Granite City school employees' early retirement plans were approved by the Board of Education on Tuesday night. Among them were Charles R. Weiss, principal of Grigsby Junior High School, and Joseph S. Fedora, administrative assistant for athletics and physical education. Both plan to retire at the end of the 1985-86 school year.

have 30 years of Granite City service as a teacher, coach and administrator. He praises past and present boards, administrators, teachers, coaches, students and the community for "many memorable experiences and friendships."

Fedora says, "The next several years may be the most difficult period in the history of our community and school district. Working together has resulted in solving previous problems and I feel confident that our continued cooperative efforts will accomplish the same with our present crisis."

"Future staffing is but one of the many problems presently confronting this administration. Hopefully, this early announcement of my intended retirement may serve to assist in this difficult area."

Also retiring in 3½ years will be Joseph A. Kutofsky, South High vocational machine shop teacher. Retiring in July 1985 will be Joseph L. Hanson, South business education teacher, and T. Madge Hanson, Johnson upper primary teacher.

Hanson recalls coming to Granite City to teach in 1954, expecting to stay a year. He adds, "Granite City, especially the school system, has a way of extending a warm, friendly hand and where I have remained to finish my teaching career. I thank you for the many opportunities you have given to me in my years in the Granite City school system. I rank it as one of the best in the state."

Those retiring at the end of the 1983-84 year will be: Maureen Banche, Namai lower intermediate teacher; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Briggs, Parkview kindergarten teacher; Nancy A. Barnett, Logan middle intermediate teacher; and Richard B. Barnett, Namai middle intermediate teacher.

Mrs. Briggs says, "My years of teaching in the Granite City school system have been both enjoyable and educational. The quality of education provided by the Board of Education is outstanding and I am privileged to have been a part of it."

Nancy Barnett notes that in July 1984 she will have taught 26 years in Illinois, including 20 in Granite City. She adds, "There cannot be a profession with greater opportunity for pleasure than teaching—helping children learn. I have enjoyed my students, their families, and the people with whom I have worked. All in all, it has been a joy."

Richard Barnett recalls that "hundreds of children have come under my tutelage and I hope that my influence has been a positive one. To see some of them win awards and participate in worthwhile extracurricular events, and eventually grow up and become members of the community, has made me proud. Such compensation is beyond monetary value."

"I have faith that the school system will continue to do an excellent job in spite of temporary economic setbacks. Concerned parents, dedicated teachers and a sincere, hard-working administration make an unbeatable combination."

Frieda M. Andrews will retire Dec. 31, 1984, as secretary to the director of buildings and grounds, will have completed 25½ years of "varied, interesting and educational" duties. The latter, active 21 years at present, cites "many cherished friendships" and "many educational experiences."

Raymond Tate, a teacher on the district's maintenance staff, will retire July 31, 1985. James Harlan, a maintenance carpenter, will retire June 30, 1985.

GC Steel gearing for improved year in 1983

THE MILL January 1983

Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation, Granite City, Illinois

STEEL GROUP MISSION STATEMENT

The Steel Group will manage its resources to generate the financial returns necessary to support the mission of National Steel Corporation. Our mission is supported by the following key elements:

Customers

- We will be a market driven, customer oriented supplier of steel products and services.
- We will attain a leadership position through a combination of quality, service and price with customers in those markets and market segments which are most attractive to National Steel Corporation by:
  - establishing market leadership through a combination of being a low cost producer, product differentiation and market/customer segment focus.
  - managing research, technology, product development and capital investment activities as determined by our strategic marketing direction in those areas where we have defined a leadership objective.

Employees

- We will create and maintain an environment which encourages creativity, innovation and performance excellence, and we will demonstrate our concern and commitment to the employees of the Steel Group by:
  - providing an atmosphere of open communication, trust and teamwork which encourages employees to express themselves and participate in the decision-making process to the fullest extent possible.
  - managing our business with the minimum number of highly qualified personnel and the optimum structure for control, communication and organization effectiveness with the flexibility to meet changing conditions.
  - providing effective training and development opportunities for employees to broaden their skills and enhance their growth.
  - establishing high performance expectations, which are clearly understood, performance relative to these expectations will be appropriately rewarded or penalized.
  - ensuring that safe and appropriate resources, facilities, systems, procedures and processes are available.
  - recognizing and rewarding creative/entrepreneurial initiative and accepting risk taking within reasonable limits.

Stockholders

- We will continually improve organizational effectiveness and operational performance.
- We will produce a 20% pre-tax return on invested capital.
- We will maintain a strong financial position by:
  - managing our resources to generate cash.
  - funding strategies that will produce consistent pre-tax returns in excess of 20% on invested capital.
  - controlling our break-even point.
- We will strategically focus our resources to balance manufacturing facilities with marketing opportunities.

Communities

- We will operate our business so that we are responsible Corporate citizens in the geographical areas in which we do business. We will continue to encourage our employees to take an active part in the civic affairs of the communities in which they live and work.

Steel output here lowest in 14 years

Production at Granite City Steel in the year 1982 was the lowest for any year since 1968—and that year was hit by a combination loss of a blast furnace lining and other factors. As a result, Granite City Steel Company lost $6,660,000 in 1982.

The 1982 raw steel output was 1,198,767 tons, compared to the 1968 total of 974,000 tons.

Mission requires employee study and understanding

National Steel's Steel Group Mission Statement is reprinted on this page. It was developed participatively after considerable thought, study, and discussion among the various key management people in the Group.

GCS vice president-general manager Ed Sambuchi said, "The Mission represents where we want to be, realizing that it will take time and effort on everyone's part to accomplish."

Sambuchi pointed out that parts of the Mission require considerable explanation to make its intent clear and understandable. For example, he cited the concept of "return on investment" (under Stockholders). This might easily be confused with "return on sales"—or profit—which is completely different.

"Please keep in mind the Mission represents a GUIDE to where we want to be," he added. "It's up to all of us to determine how we get there."

Salaried people are currently participating in meetings to explain the intent of the Mission, determine areas of concern and areas where more clarification may be necessary. As soon as this series of meetings is over, similar meetings will begin for hourly people.

The purpose of the meetings is to insure that all employees have the opportunity to hear an explanation of the Steel Group Mission and to express their opinions. It is hoped that they will understand the intent of the Mission—that our objectives, policies, procedures and behavior must be consistent with the Mission—and to identify areas where plans are necessary before the Mission can be fully implemented.

"These principles will not be achieved overnight," he concluded. "It will only happen if we have the open communication, trust and teamwork which encourages employees to express themselves..." as the Mission says."

However, the estimated loss for '82 of some $89 million is much greater.

Blast Furnace tonnages show a similar result. The 992,472 tons produced last year was the lowest total since 1968, when 783,000 tons were cast.

Total steel shipments in 1982 were 1,073,996 the lowest since the 1,036,462 tons shipped in the recession year of 1975.

In summary, the year of 1982 was one that most GCS people would rather forget. However, there were a few bright spots from a production standpoint, as some individual units set records in their rates of operation.

GCS vice president-general manager Ed Sambuchi recently made the following statement summing up the progress made here in 1982 and the outlook for 1983:

Although this past year was the worst in history in many respects for Granite City Steel, it was not because we weren't doing a lot of things right. I feel we made great strides in improving quality, service, cost management and communications—progress that will help us be a stronger company in the future.

Because of the general deep recession in the United States in 1982, the continuing inroads of foreign steel dumped in this country, and the never-slowing growth in our costs of labor and materials, we anticipate a loss for our division of National Steel Corporation of about $89 million.

The steel industry recession resulted in a sizeable core of our plant employees remaining on layoff throughout 1982. Unfortunately, some of them may never be called back to their old jobs, even after the recession ends. Our salaried forces—and compensations—were trimmed significantly, as we sought to reduce our overall costs.

Progress reported
But there were many positive signs of progress. Our cost improvement program was extended to include our hourly people for the first time, and with their help we managed to chalk up $34 million worth of cost savings this year. Our sights are aimed at more than double that in 1983.

From a production standpoint, we successfully completed a replacement battery of coke ovens in 1982. And our continuous slab caster, considered the "state of the art" in the industry, demonstrated its ability to produce consistently high quality steel. Our cold rolled steel showed significant

In addition to some monthly and daily records in 1982, there were three annual records put into the books. The single total-tonnage record was in the Continuous Caster, where 672,438 tons of steel were cast into slabs in the first full year of operation, compared to 449,095 in 1981.

The two other records for the year were set at the North Plant. The No. 6 Continuous Galvanizing Line operated at 28.3 tons an hour, breaking the record of 26.0 set by that unit in 1977. And the No. 2 Roll Former topped its 1981 record rate of 13.3 tons an hour by operating at 14.7 tons an hour in 1982.

quality improvement, to the point that we are once again a factor in the cold-rolled market. Because of the fact that GCS steel used in building products is recognized as a leader in the industry, we maintained our position in that market in 1982—in products used in farm and light commercial buildings.

In 1983, our production goals will be to show best unit performance, to further reduce costs, and to continue quality, delivery and price advantages so that Granite City Steel will be considered the leading supplier by all of our customers.

Communication emphasized

We will continue to emphasize communications and the participative style of management so that all our employees, both hourly and salaried, will recognize that they are an important part of our eventual success. At the same time, we will do our best to improve labor-management relations in 1983.

From an environmental standpoint, significant progress was made in 1982 with startup of treatment facilities for by-products waste water. We're using live micro-organisms to literally "eat" unwanted chemicals from the water.

Under the EPA "bubble concept" we have already begun—and will further develop—new methods for emission control in and around our plant. Continued implementation of our hearing conservation program for employees, begun in 1982, will be a prominent part of our '83 plans.

In short, Granite City Steel intends to build on the foundations that have been laid in the past year. We've got the people, procedures and equipment in place for a high-performance level. All we need is a better business climate, the end of the housing slump, and a resumption of oil and gas exploration. It'd settle right now for two of the three.

Vadalabene protests moving of crime lab

State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) has sent a letter to James B. Zagel, director of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement in Springfield, protesting a proposal to move the Illinois State Crime Laboratory from Fairview Heights to a location outside the Metro-East area.

In his letter, Sen. Vadalabene said, "It is my firm belief that such a move would be a grave mistake."

The Metro-East area is the second most populous area in the state and the crime rate is high. The move would place another burden on our law enforcement officers in communities and counties in the Metropolitan area on the East side of the Mississippi River... police investigations would be delayed, efficiency reduced, and cost increased.

The possibility of moving the crime laboratory to Mount Vernon, Marion or Carbondale, Ill., prompted police chiefs and county officials to travel to Springfield, last week to lobby for keeping the crime lab in Fairview Heights.

They also formed a committee and will notify James Zagel, director of the Department of Law Enforcement, if a suitable facility can be found in this area, preferably on or near the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus.

According to statistics, between 1978 and 1981, Madison and St. Clair Counties had 108,244 major incidents. The other 11 counties south of Springfield had only 98,057 in the same period. Madison-St. Clair had 368 murders in the four-year period. The other four counties had 94 total.

REFUSES TO LEAVE FACES TWO CHARGES

After refusing to leave the scene of a fight Tuesday at 1:30 a.m., and then allegedly pushing a Madison police officer, John T. Turcott, 28, of 217 Saratoga St., was arrested and charged with resisting arrest and disobeying a police officer.

Police allegedly found four men, including Turcott, involved in a fight at Thirteenth Street and Madison Avenue, outside The Stadium Tavern. With assistance from Venice and Granite City police, the fight was broken up, but it could not be determined who started the altercation.

Police allege that Turcott refused to leave the area, although he was told to do so several times. He allegedly started to walk away and, as the reporting officer turned to leave, Turcott allegedly pushed him in the back to try and get back inside the tavern.

Force allegedly was necessary to handcuff Turcott and place him in the squad car. He was released at 2:35 a.m. Tuesday on $52 cash bond.

STEALS COAT

A man asked to use the restroom at the 905 Party Center in Namecki Village Shopping Center last week and apparently stole a leather coat, belonging to an employee, from the rear of the store. The thief was described as being black with a light complexion, dark hair and of medium build. He was in his late 20's and was wearing a heavy green parka and a blue stocking cap.

Venice man gets 364 days in Vandalia

Two Granite City detectives passing Casual Wear Ltd., 1321 Nineteenth St., during the weekend were told by the manager that a man had just taken a sweater from the store. They began to pursue the person, apprehending him in the 1900 block of City Street.

Alfred Jackson, 32, also known as Al Rhodes, 327 Weaver St., Venice, was returned to the store and identified as the man who allegedly stole the sweater without paying for it. Jackson had other items in his possession, including a hypodermic syringe. He was charged with possession of a hypodermic syringe.

Jackson also was charged Monday with felony theft in an informational document issued through the Madison County state attorney's office and appeared in the Granite City court at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

He pleaded guilty to possession of a hypodermic syringe and was sentenced to serve 364 days in the Vandalia Correctional Facility. An arraignment is pending on other charges.

Jackson was ordered held on mittimus in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville until other matters connected with prior warrants issued by the county are settled. It was learned. He was transferred from the county Jail to the county facility Tuesday.

Television courses available at BAC

Even though spring registration is over at Belleville Area College, there's still time to sign up for a BAC television course.

Whether you are interested in starting college for the first time or need a course to round out your class schedule, consider a television course.

Students will be able to choose from Marine Biology or Child Development, two courses that will be offered for the first time this spring. Psychology, The Home Gardener, Introduction to Data Processing and American: The Second Century, four television courses that have been well received by BAC students, will be offered again.

Courses are aired during early morning hours and videotapes are available on campus and in the Granite City Public Library to make viewing convenient for those who work full time.

The courses, more than televised lectures, include on-campus testing and tours, use of student study guides and textbooks, and phone, personal and mail contact with BAC experts in each field.

For information and to register, call 235-2700, extension 200. Tuition is $19 per semester hour. Marine Biology, Child Development, General Psychology and American: The Second Century have an additional $20 television fee. The Home Gardener and Introduction to Data Processing have a $15 television fee.

Marine Biology airs from 8 to 8:30 a.m. and 8:30 to 9 a.m. Sundays from Feb. 13 to May 12, 1983, on KETC-TV, Channel Nine. The BAC instructor is Leo Welch.

FOUND IN TRUCK, BURGLARY CHARGED

Pontoon Beach police arrested Jack Est, 19, of 64 Kaseberg Park, Pontoon Beach, on charges of auto burglary last week after he allegedly was found inside an Illinois Bell Telephone van parked in the company lot at 183 Pontoon Road.

Police saw the van at the rear of the telephone company and said the interior light was on and the gate surrounding the lot was unlocked. Door glass was broken on the driver's side of the van, police said. Est was allegedly in the front seat and was ordered out of the van placed in custody. A mobile radio allegedly was removed from a bracket inside the van and the glove box was open and ransacked.

Est allegedly had two fuseboxes and a test wire in his possession and allegedly said that was all he removed from the van. After taking Est to the Granite City Jail, Pontoon Beach officers later located the right door window was broken and a first aid kit was on the pavement outside the door. Est was being held on $10,000 bond.

Vadalabene heads Senate committee on appointments

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) has been reappointed chairman of the Senate Executive Appointments and Administration Committee by Senate President Philip J. Rock.

Vadalabene has headed the committee for the past six years. It reviews and screens gubernatorial appointments for the full Senate and handles a host of administrative matters.

"It is reassuring to me personally, and to the people of Illinois generally, to have at the helm of this important committee a public servant of the caliber of Sam Vadalabene," Rock said in making the appointment. "Senator Vadalabene has guided this panel with fairness and integrity throughout his tenure as chairman and I am pleased he has agreed to continue in that capacity for the 43rd General Assembly."

Rock also named Vadalabene to be vice chairman of the Appropriations II Committee, which oversees elementary, secondary and higher education in Illinois as well as a number of human services.

"Sam's longtime interest in and concern for quality education for all students in Illinois make him a natural for this panel," Rock said. "I'm sure Illinois citizens, and especially those in the 56th District, will benefit from his service."

Vadalabene, who has been a state senator since 1971, also will serve as a member of the Higher Education Committee and the Executive Committee. He was a member of the House of Representatives from 1967 to 1971.

He was sworn in for his latest Senate term last week.

Public may request hearing on proposed Edwardsville facility of St. Elizabeth

Application for a proposed construction or modification to construct a 50 bed, free-standing chemical dependency facility of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, to be located in Edwardsville, has been declared complete as of Jan. 6, in accordance with the requirements of the Illinois

Health Facilities Planning Act. A review is scheduled for completion on May 5. Any person wanting a public hearing on the project, estimated to cost $4,967,264, may submit a written request for such hearing to Ray Passeri, executive secretary Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board, 525 West Jefferson St., Springfield, Ill., 62761, telephone 1-217-783-3516. Requests for a hearing must be received by the agency no later than Feb. 4, according to the announcement.

Bill D. Parker elected Ainad Shrine potentate

Bill D. Parker, a Fairfield, Ill., businessman, was elected potentate of Ainad Shrine Temple at the annual meeting last week. He succeeds Mark W. Moreton of Freeburg.

Ainad covers all of Southern Illinois and has 9,728 nobles on its roster, which contains 40 Shrine Clubs and 40 uniformed units.

Parker was appointed in line at Ainad by Past Potentate James Carter in 1972 and will be the 71st potentate to serve the temple, which received its charter in 1913.

One of the largest undertakings will be the annual Shrine circus, which runs from June 1, through June 12, in Olney, Belleville, Granite City and DuQuoin. Members of the elective Duan include, Chief Rabbah Gene Morris, DuQuoin, Assistant Rabbah Joseph Barnes, Highland, High Priest and Prophet Thomas Barschak, Edwardsville, Oriental Guide Raymond "Randy" Burton, Granite City, Treasurer Mark W. Moreton, past potentate, and Recorder Donald G. Adams, past potentate, Granite City.

The appointed officers are Irvin C. Slate Jr. and Orville Hommer, both of Granite City, William Piper, Mount Vernon, Harold Tracy, Marine, David McDaniel, Mount Vernon and the Rev. Clarence V. Tolley, O'Fallon. Shrine's Hospital Board members are past potentates, Roy Wilmszig and Donald G. Adams, both of Granite City, and Mark Moreton and Harold G. Baker Jr.

The retiring potentate, Moreton, delivered $123,000 in bonds to the St. Louis Unit, Shriners Hospital, last week. This represented gifts from the Shrine Clubs and Units of Ainad that were received at the Christmas meeting.

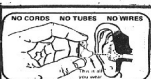

The budget for the St. Louis Unit will be near $5 million, while the budget for the 21 Shrine Hospitals is $98 million.

MAN ENTERS PLEA IN BATTERY CASE

Stanley R. Hargrove, 18, of 2436 Ohio Ave., pleaded guilty to a state count of battery and a disorderly conduct charge in a court appearance last week.

The charges resulted from an incident at West 23rd Street and Illinois Avenue when Darron Kuhn, 2311 Logan Ave., was found bleeding from the mouth by an officer and pointed to man walking west on West 23rd Street, alleging he was his attacker.

The man reportedly ran north, jumping fence and running between houses. He was caught in the 2400 block of Dewey Avenue and was identified as Hargrove, police said.

High school consolidation affecting GEC schools

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City School Board's decision Tuesday to consolidate Granite City's two high schools will have an adverse effect on Granite City.

But that's not all. The repercussions of the decision are being felt in neighboring communities as well. In particular, Edwardsville, Cahokia and Belleville.

Those communities, like Granite City, have high schools which compete, athletically, in the Gateway East Conference. The consolidation of North and South poses two problems for those schools. The first is the obvious absence of North next year, which presents a problem to many of the already arranged conference sports schedules. The second problem will be the increased numbers at Granite City High School next year, something some members of the GEC see as a threat to the "balance of power."

The end result threatens the very existence of the GEC.

In addition to those two problems, the Illinois High School Association may get a hand in the action.

According to IHSA guidelines, all schools competing in football must have a minimum of six schools in each

"I think we need to take a look at the whole situation. The consolidation would double the size of Granite City in comparison to the other schools in the conference. Do the other teams have a chance to compete? I think we're going to need to rethink this thing."

Dick Ford

conference. The criteria for football varies from other sports because, unlike the other sports, only the conference champion advances to the playoffs. In other competition, all schools, without regard to their season records, advance to post-season play.

The GEC, in its current situation, has five schools, while the consolidation would cut that number to four. Because the Gateway East Conference was formed (1979-80 was the first academic year) prior to the IHSA ruling (June 1980), the conference was exempted from the criteria demanding six conference participants. The exemption allowed the GEC, and two other conferences in the state, to compete under what was then termed the "Grandfather Clause."

However, to satisfy the IHSA requirement of five conference grid games, each member school of the conference was required to play a total of five conference games. Hence North's two games against Althoff and South's two contests against Cahokia last season.

However, according to Don Robinson, executive secretary to the IHSA, it is possible for the GEC to compete in the football playoffs with just four schools, but that would require the approval of the IHSA Board of Directors. Although Robinson said he didn't think the board would approve a four-team conference for football.

"We're trying to maintain the six-team conference idea," Robinson said. "I doubt that the board would approve such a request."

Therefore, because of the consolidation, the GEC must once again contend with having fewer than the IHSA recommended schools.

And, that's not all. Athletic directors of GEC schools have expressed at least some reservations about playing a school such as the new Granite City High School, whose enrollment would outnumber their respective schools by at least 1,000 students.

According to IHSA 1982-83 enrollment figures, Granite City North is listed as having 1,985 students. Granite City North is listed as having 1,320. Using those combined enrollment figures, Granite City High School's enrollment next fall is estimated at 3,185. Meanwhile, Edwardsville, Cahokia and Althoff list their enrollment figures with the IHSA at 1,718, 1,549 and 968 respectively.

Excluding Edwardsville, Granite City High School's enrollment would outnumber Cahokia's two-to-one and Althoff's better than three-to-one.

Understandably, some GEC athletic directors see that as an unfair advantage.

"I think we need to take a look at the whole situation," said Dick Ford, athletic director at Edwardsville.

He suggested that all four schools remain in the Gateway East Conference for all sports except football. Taylor suggested that each school could then compete independently in that sport.

thing," Ford said.

Ford's not alone. Cahokia's Lawrence Taylor and Althoff's Glenn Schott expressed similar reservations. All agree the conference has just two alternatives: expand or disband. All agree that some rethinking of the conference is necessary.

And that's just what GEC athletic directors were doing this morning as this publication was going to press. All five AD's met at the Granite City North to discuss the ramifications the consolidation will have on the conference.

Prior to the meeting, the athletic directors had both similar and varying accounts of the effects of the consolidation on the GEC. But all agreed on one thing. If the GEC is to survive, as a total of four schools, it must feature a football championship team, its members must seek at least another member.

"I think our school has thoroughly enjoyed the conference," Schott said. "The Gateway East Conference has been good for Althoff. We've made some excellent relationships these past four years and I'd hate to see this thing go the wayward," Schott said.

Cahokia's Taylor came up with a solution.

He suggested that all four schools remain in the Gateway East Conference for all sports except football. Taylor suggested that each school could then compete independently in that sport.

Another solution possible would allow Granite City High School to compete in the GEC, but find a replacement school for North, which brings to mind only two independent Class AA schools in the area: Triad (St. Jacob) and East St. Louis-Lincoln.

As for other potential conference newcomers, Taylor noted that a few Springfield schools have expressed a desire in the GEC, but that was a far-fetched solution.

"Honestly, we'd like to have them join the conference," Taylor said. "But budget now. We've got very little travel money. Allowing them in the conference would be an impossibility for us."

Closer to home, Bryan Wilkison, North's AD, sees little hope for the survival of the GEC without newcomers.

"Honestly, I would find it difficult to believe that the GEC would be able to continue as it has with just four schools," he said.

"It's either going to have to add schools or disband. I can't see it going on with just four schools."

Wilkison said the initial reason for the formation of the Gateway East Conference was so schools with similar size enrollments could compete against each other. Now, with the consolidation, that is unlikely, he said.

Thursday Sports North meets South in final intra-city mat matchup

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The 1982-83 regular Granite City wrestling season will come to an end this evening as the Steelers take on cross-town Granite City South, and with the season's end, comes the Steelers' hopes of another undefeated season.

With the school board's announcement Tuesday not to reopen North next year, tonight's match has special significance to both teams. It will be the final meeting of the two wrestling teams.

The Steelers, 20-0 this season, are looking to go out in a blaze of glory. Should they win tonight, it'll be the Steelers' 41st consecutive grappler victory spanning two years.

The Warriors, 14-9 on the season, have yet another pairing against Althoff before they close out their regular season. Both North and South will get a short break before competing in their respective regionals next weekend, Feb. 11 and 12.

The Warriors will compete in the O'Fallon Regional while the Steelers will compete in the Collinsville Regional. This is the first year that both schools have competed in different regionals. Separate regionals for both Granite City high schools came as some surprise to Steele's Walt Whitaker.

"Sure, I was a little surprised with the regional pairings," Whitaker said following the announcement of the regional locations.

"I'm not going to say one regional will be tougher than the other," he said "but with area powerhouses Roxana, Edwardsville and North in one regional, it should be one of the best around."

Although this year's "powerhouses" will be competing in the Collinsville wrestling

Regional, Whitaker spoke highly of the competition he expected South to meet in the O'Fallon Regional.

"The O'Fallon Regional should feature some fine wrestling as well," Whitaker said. "With South, and the Belleville schools in there it, too, should be competitive."

Because of the consistent caliber of teams competing in the O'Fallon Regional, Whitaker estimated it to be "a better balanced regional" than the Collinsville Regional.

Warrior coach Bill "Red" Schmitt was happy with the separation of regionals.

"I think we got a break not having to compete against North and Roxana," Schmitt said after learning about the regional sites.

"We'll have a better chance of qualifying some athletes for the sectional. Both North and South will return to Granite City the following weekend, Feb. 18-19, to compete in the South Sectional.

At first, before the regionals, there's the North-South pairing.

Without question, the Steelers have proven to be the dominant wrestling power in the area. Whitaker has called this year's edition, which features eight seniors on its starting lineup, his best team ever. In contrast, the Warriors are younger than their Steel counterparts. Not only do the Warriors have just half as many seniors, they are starting with a freshman, two sophomores and three juniors. That criteria led Schmitt to the following assessment.

"There's not a whole lot to say (about tonight's match)," Schmitt began. "We're the underdogs. I'm just hoping we make a good showing."

Despite an apparent Steele victory, disciplinary problems prevented Whitaker from predicting the outcome.

"I think there's a pretty good possibility that we'll finish our season undefeated," Whitaker said following a pair of victories last weekend.

Beyond that, Whitaker would not speculate as to the outcome.

Unquestionably, tonight's match will be one Granite City wrestling enthusiasts will want to witness — if not for the finality, certainly for the quality.

Beginning at 8 p.m., South's sophomore sensation Jeff Cotter, 22-7, will take on North's Gary Mann, 8-5-1. Mann, a freshman, has proven himself a fitting replacement to graduating Collins in Davis.

Davis, 27-1 this year and a state qualifier last year, will face South's Darrin Singleton, 2-22, in the 105-pound match. Davis is a senior, while Singleton is a freshman.

The 112-pound competition will pit North's Greg Nemeth, 26-2, against South's Sean McGovern, 12-12-1. Both Nemeth and McGovern are juniors.

At 119, North's Brent McKenney, a 20-5 junior, will meet South's Tom Sparks, 4-3. Sparks is a freshman.

South's Joe DeShon, 7-12-1, will have his hands full tonight in 126-pound competition as he takes on Red Unger, the first of three undefeated grapplers in the Steele lineup. Unger, a senior and a state qualifier last year, will be going for his 29th victory of the season tonight. DeShon is also a senior.

North's Mark Whitaker, 10-15, will be looking for his 11th victory of the season as he meets South's Darrin Hasty, 2-12, in 132-pound competition. Both are sophomores.

At 138 pounds, North's Ken Patterson, a 12-7 senior, will face South's Mike Fenoglio, 9-15. Fenoglio is a freshman.

South's Henry Brown, 1-5-1, will meet North's Monte Kessler, 16-7, in 145-pound competition. Brown, a junior, recently edged teammate Tracy McElroy to win the starting rotation. Kessler is a senior.

The Warriors have managed their winning record this season with the strengths of their heavier wrestlers: Mark Dowdy, Jon Frangouis, Dave Brown and Paul Hitchcock. Schmitt has labeled those grapplers as "the big four." It will be in these remaining matches where spectators will see the best wrestling.

South's Dowdy, a junior with a 21-5-3 record, will meet North's Bruce Widel in 155-pound competition. Widel, a senior, is the second of North's undefeated wrestlers. Tonight, Widel will be looking for his 29 victory.

At 167 pounds, South's Frangouis, a senior, will meet North's Paul Hitchcock, 23-1. Both are seniors.

In the final match of the evening, North's heavyweight John Kramer, 13-16, will meet South's Paul Hitchcock, 23-1. Both are seniors.

Tonight's match, at Granite City South, begins at 6:30 p.m.

Althoff came back to outscore South 17-6 in the final quarter to remain undefeated in the GEC.

"I'm not disappointed in the girls, because they are trying hard. We just have a lot of underclassmen who have to learn when to relax and when to play hard. There's no substitute for experience," Morgan said.

Trish Schmitt led the Warriors with 16 points. Kathy Juzasz scored 12 points, and Kathy Thornberry added 10 points for the Warriors.

South, 2-14 for the season and 1-15 in the GEC, plays at Althoff at 6:30 p.m.

North's Trittschuh signs with SIU-Edwardsville

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

When Steve Trittschuh was learning how to play soccer, his parents, Jack and Carol Trittschuh, took him to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's Cougar field two or three times a year to watch the Cougars.

"He (Steve) always starting SIU-E would be a good place to play soccer. He thought it would be pretty tough to beat it," the elder Trittschuh said.

However, as his known throughout his high school soccer career at Granite City North, eventually became a four-year starter for the Steelers and an All-American back. Numerous schools wanted to recruit him.

Trittschuh was interested in three major soccer schools, Eastern Illinois University, the University of Indiana and SIU-E. Eaver visited the University of Indiana and received visits from SIU-E soccer coach Bob Guetler.

After looking at the scholarship packages the schools were offering, Eaver told his mother, "Mom, I think I always wanted to be a Cougar."

Trittschuh recently signed a letter of intent to attend SIU-E. Trittschuh will receive a scholarship which included tuition and portion of his room and board. Scholarships can only be given for one year at a time, and they are renewed based on athletic and academic performance.

His high school coach, Bob Kehoe, thinks Eaver can handle the rigors of Division I soccer and has high hopes for him.

"I think he was the best all-around player we had in 10 years at North," Kehoe said. "We've had better dribblers, and we've had better defenders, but we haven't had anyone as well rounded as far as his skills and talents are concerned."

"I think he'll develop into a fine four-year soccer player, and it would not be a surprise to me if he plays pro soccer after he is through with college," Kehoe said.

Kehoe thinks Trittschuh will have a good chance of starting his freshman year. Three backfield players will return for the Cougars next year, and Guetler has reportedly recruited three players to fill the other spots.

"I've got to beat a couple of other people to make the line-up. I won't be too upset. I don't start next year since I'll be a freshman," Trittschuh said.

Trittschuh was one of only two athletes to start during all four years at North. Along with his defensive prowess, he also helped North offensively with both goals and assists.

"He's tenacious on defensive, and he has all the tools. He's just a natural athlete. Eaver just loves soccer, and he's going to get bigger, stronger and better. It's going to be good for him to be exposed to a different coach," Kehoe said.

Trittschuh was also a coach's delight at North. "I didn't have to do a lot of correcting. Every month or so, I would have to correct some aspect of his game, but he was a natural soccer player," Kehoe said.

In addition to his All-American honors, Trittschuh was named to all-state teams in 1981 and 1982 and to the Gateway East Conference teams for the last three seasons.

"I don't think Eaver's the type of player who going to sit on the bench his freshman year. He could have gone to any number of schools and become a starter right away," Kehoe said.

Trittschuh does not expect to play baseball, another sport in which he excels, at SIU-E. He plans to be a physical education major.

"He's been playing soccer since he was five or six years old," Mrs. Trittschuh said. "He just decided he wanted to be a Cougar."

SIUE hoop men return home; romp Parks College

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — It was a winning effort that the cagers of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville recorded in their first home game since Dec. 18, Tuesday night and little Parks College suffered a devastating 82-32 loss in the process.

The victory upped the Cougars' record for the season to 8-16, while the Falcons of Parks fell to 2-17.

After the first five minutes, in which the Cougars vaulted out to a 22-lead, the most spirited action in the Edwardsville High gym was the fans trying to predict the eventual margin of victory for Coach Tom Pugliese's SIUE charges.

It was strikingly a "no contest" affair as the Cougars scored almost at will and wouldn't have been even worse hadn't Pugliese chosen to substitute liberally, almost from the start.

The Cougars' offensive charge was sparked by forward, Matt Condit of Barrington, Ill., who poured in eight of his game high 14 baskets the first half.

He finished with 24 points on 11 of 14 field goals and two for two from the charity line. Condit looks like the best player, overall, to play for SIUE since Neil Peebles.

For the future, the international look of the Cougars went on display: lowering Lars Graf, freshman from Germany by way of Lincoln, Ill., and Anders Onariheim, also a first-year classman, from Asker, Norway. Graf is 6-9 and racked up four points while Onariheim, 6-6, hit for six points.

The Cougars' defense was equally impressive, as the crowd's sentimental favorite and he responded by leading on six of 10 shots for (with two free throws) 14 points.

Mark Milbrandt, a 6-4 sophomore from Beardstown, Ill., was almost the total offense for the Falcons as hit for five-of-15 from the floor and nine of 10 from the line. He had 19 of the visitors' 32 points.

Jim (Buz) Logan, SIUE senior from Wood River, had a rare "off" game with just four points, but was in the thick of the Cougars' overall game, both on defense and offense.

Five of the Cougars' remaining games are going to be at home, starting with their next one Monday night against St. Mary's U. of Texas at Edwardsville High gym with tipoff time at 7:30 p.m.

The Monday game with St. Mary's should be a tough one since they are ranked No. 4 nationally in NAIA circles.

Trojans progressing well; dump Roosevelt 93-71

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — As far as Larry Graham is concerned, the Madison Trojans are progressing quite well.

After losing to Lovejoy Jan. 18, the Trojans have had a fairly easy time disposing of its opponents. Madison made Roosevelt of St. Louis its newest victim Tuesday with a 93-71 decision at Madison.

"We are playing pretty well right now, and we're improving quite a bit," Graham said. "Everyone is making contributions to the team, and we're starting to put the pieces together."

Madison, which improved its record to 17-3 with the victory, really didn't have to struggle to beat 6-11 Roosevelt of the St. Louis Public League.

"We are a lot better shooting team than they are, and we are a lot better passing team than they are. We shot pretty well, and we had some really good steals," Graham said.

The Trojans picked up 21 steals for the night, including seven by Victor Valentine and six by John Hughes.

"Not only did steals play a big factor in the game, rebounds also influenced the outcome of the game. The Trojans rebounded the Roosevelt 44-24."

"We had a good offensive game, and we played a little bit of good defense. It wasn't a bad performance for us," Graham said.

Madison Trojans

Madison used its defensive and rebounding superiority to outscore Roosevelt 20-10 in the first quarter. The Trojans took a 49-31 lead at halftime and coasted to victory after that.

Valentine, a key reserve for the Trojans, got a chance to prove himself as a starter. He filled the bill well, scoring 20 points for the Trojans.

Valentine made his presence known in the second quarter. He scored nine points in the quarter to guide the Trojans through.

Hughes added 13 points, and Leroy Pryor scored 12 points for the Trojans. In all, 11 players scored for Madison.

The Trojans mastered the Rough Riders except in one area—turnovers. Madison made 20, just one less than Roosevelt.

"Our turnovers were results of errors on our part. They forced us to make a few errors, but we made a lot of errors on our own," Graham said.

Meanwhile, Roosevelt coach Roy Foes wasn't happy about the evening. Foes mumbled about the officiating throughout the game. He never became vocal enough to get a technical foul, but his displeasure showed during and after the game.

"I really don't want to say anything about the officiating tonight," Foes said.

Not only was Foes disappointed with the officials, he was disappointed with the performance of his team.

"We just didn't play very good defense tonight," Foes said. "We usually play much better defense than what we did. We let them have too many easy shots inside. If we would have stop some of their shots and made a few of our easy shots, it would have been much closer than what it was."

"This is the worst defense we've had at this school in a long time. We play good defense in spurts, but we can't put together a good defensive game," Foes added.

One Rough Rider did manage to have a good offensive game, center Martin Jenkins. He scored 30 points for the game. "He's a major college player," Graham said. "It was a challenge trying to stop him."

No other Rough Rider finished in double figures. Madison has two rough games coming up this weekend. The Trojans travel to East St. Louis Friday for an interesting confrontation. The Trojans came back from a 21-point deficit to beat the Flyers at the Central Holiday Tournament.

On Saturday, Hillsboro comes to Madison in an important Class A match-up. Hillsboro and Bunker Hill are the two favorites at the Litchfield Regional, a regional which feeds into the Vandalla sectional.

White leads Red Devils to IGC win over MELHS

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — In the game of basketball there are two qualities an offense must possess in order for it to be effective: inside and outside the paint, and around the perimeter. A lack of either can easily spell defeat.

Tuesday night at Metro-East Lutheran High School, the failure of Metro-East to mount an outside game enabled the Venice Red Devils to pack in their defense, play their style of game, and not worry about the Knights' outside scoring. There wasn't any and Venice took the contest, 63-44.

One of the trademarks of Venice teams this year, as in years past, has been the effectiveness of their full-court press, but Tuesday the press wasn't nearly as large a factor as usual.

Sievers felt they played against the press well except for "a short stint in the third quarter that cost us a couple of costly turnovers. Other than that we handled the press."

For Venice, the key was the performance of the year for 5-foot-10 senior Phillip White. White was smoking hot throughout the game, contributing a game-high 24 points. Most of White's shots came from the 16-foot perimeter, erasing the effectiveness of the East zone.

The game started out an even battle, both teams trading baskets until the score reached 10-10.

Late in the first stanza, the half-court Venice pressure forced Metro-East into a couple of mental errors, enabling Venice to build a modest four-point lead at the quarter, 18-14.

In the second period, the Red Devils began to pull out, building their lead to 12 at one point. Three times it looked as though Venice would run away with it, but each time senior Steve Cummings hit baskets at crucial times when Venice could have put the game out of reach.

White led the Venice in the first half with 12 points. Cummings, an emotional Cliff Dellamano kept the Knights going inside with 10.

In the second half, the press began to take its toll. Implementing the half-court trap, forcing two quick turnovers early in the third quarter.

After that the Knights began to lose their composure despite the valiant effort of senior forward, Dellamano.

Dellamano, who hit for 24 points in the contest, was the battle force behind the efforts of the Knights. On a steal in the third quarter, with Venice ahead by 12, he stole a cross-court pass and drove down court, dunking the ball. He came back down the court on defense with his fist in the air, encouraging his teammates.

In the third quarter, Venice could have pulled out of reach but the hot hands of White and Salmond went temporarily cold and Dellamano became a force to be reckoned with inside. Dellamano scored eight points in the third period as the Knights stayed within eight points of the Red Devils.

The fourth quarter was not kind to the Knights, though. In the first two minutes, East turned the ball over twice, both times against the full-court press. The Knights became shaky and brought the ball up against the press, right into the traps at mid-court, giving the ball up out-of-bounds.

The Red Devils kept their composure and demonstrated a poise that is uncommon among teams that like to run.

Venice coach Ken Perkins was extremely pleased with his team's play. "I thought most of the kids played well," he said. "I thought Salmond and White shot extremely well and Watts did a heck of a job keeping the offense honest."

Perkins was particularly pleased with play of senior center William Watts, saying he was the unsung hero of the game. Although he didn't score much Perkins felt his defensive effort was a vital key to the Red Devil victory.

Perkins was also impressed with the play of the Knights big man, Dellamano, saying "he is one of the better big men in the area. If I were to build a program around a player, I would take him."

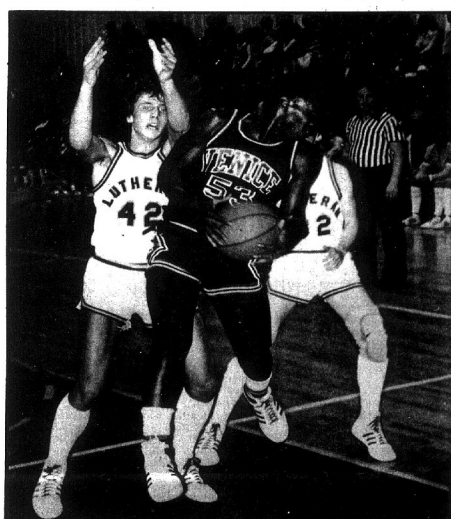

Senior Phillip White led the winners with 24 points as four Red Devils broke into double figures. Darren Wise connected for 16 points, Salmond for 11 and Watts added 10.

For Metro-East it was a one-man show with Dellamano connecting for 11 field goals enroute to his 24-point evening. Steve Stipio Cummings added 10. Venice is in action Saturday against Columbia at Venice. The Junior Varsity contest begins at 6:30.

The Metro-East Lutheran Knights will be playing on Friday, playing the first game of a double-bill at Concordia in St. Louis.

VENICE (66): Salmond 5-12 11, Watts 5-0 0 10, White 12-0 2 4, Johnson 1-0 0 2, Wise 7-2 2 16, FGs 30, FTs 3-8.

METRO-EAST LUTHERAN Dellamano 11-22 24, Tramps 2-6 6, Cummings 5-0 0 10, Rankin 1-0 0 2, Deterding, M 1-0 0 2, FGs 20, FTs 4-4.

Trojanettes coast to victory over Roosevelt

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — Future opponents of the Madison Trojanettes note: Madison is a second quarter team.

Last week, Granite City South found out how devastating Madison's full court press can be in the second quarter. Roosevelt found out the same thing Tuesday when the Trojanettes beat the Rough Riders 37-24.

The Trojanettes still recovering from the flu, put all their defense efforts into one quarter and put the game out of reach. Madison's coach said, "They were saying 'Oh My God,' but then we calmed down."

The Trojanettes struggled to a 12-8 lead at the end of the first quarter, but Madison came to life in the second quarter. Cole switched the Trojanettes' 3-1-1 full court press to a 1-1-2-1 full court press.

Roosevelt opened the second quarter with a shot. But, because of Madison's pressure, Roosevelt's second shot of the quarter didn't come until the 4:40 mark.

Meanwhile, Madison forced Roosevelt to make eight turnovers and Regina Banks was the only Trojanette in double figures with 17 points. The rest of the scoring was balanced among the remainder of the Madison squad.

The Trojanettes host Dupo tonight at 6:30 p.m. and play Highland's B-team at 9 p.m. (Saturday in the first round of the Highland St. Paul Invitational Tournament. Madison is seeded first in the tournament.

Madison grabs first seed in St. Paul tourney

HIGHLAND — The Madison Trojanettes, now 8-1, after Tuesday's victory over Roosevelt of St. Louis, have grabbed the top seed in the Fourth Annual St. Paul Girls' Basketball Tournament. The February classic begins this Saturday, Feb. 5.

The top seed pleases Madison coach Carol Cole, however she does have some reservations.

"I'm happy with the seed," Cole said. "I think the Trojanettes deserve it, however, I'm a little surprised, especially since Althoff has not been seeded." Mrs. Cole said after learning of the pairings. Althoff won the tournament last year.

Other teams seeded in the 16-team tournament include second seeded Highland Senior, third seeded Triad and fourth seeded Edwardsville. Host school, St. Paul, is not seeded.

The first seed has availed begin Wednesday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m.

The championship game is scheduled for the following Saturday, Feb. 12, at 3 p.m.

In addition to those schools mentioned, the following teams will compete in the tournament: O'Fallon (seeded fifth), Vandalla, Okawville, Breese Central (seeded seventh), Westlin, Brownstown, Assumption (seeded sixth) and Carlyle.

If the Trojanettes continue their winning ways through the quarterfinals, the semifinals are slated to

Softball league openings

Time has run out for men's teams wishing to participate in the Madison summer softball leagues. All of the men's leagues are full, however, there is still one vacancy for a women's league, according to Sam Dymas, director of the Madison Recreation Center.

Coaches and managers wishing to register a team should contact Dymas at the Madison Recreation Center at 677-6418.

The caption in Monday's Press-Record accompanying the coverage of the Warriors' quadrangular wrestling match against Quincy Senior, Columbia Hickman and McCluer was incorrect.

The caption identified the wrestler in the photograph as Darrin Singleton. That was incorrect. The wrestler in the photograph was not Singleton, but 119 pound Tom Sparks.

Also it was reported that the Warriors lost to Quincy Notre Dame, when indeed the loss came at the hands of Quincy Senior.

We regret the error and apologize to our readers for the inaccuracies.

Travelers Abroad elect officers; hear of China

Dr. Alice Purdes, a teacher in the Venice School System, was elected president of the Travelers Abroad at its January meeting. Also elected were Ernie Roullet, vice president in charge of programs; Mrs. Mary Evangelou, vice president of arrangements; Mrs. Helen Krumsiek, secretary; Mrs. Betty Applegate, treasurer; and Mrs. Barbara Williams, publicity. Mrs. Ann Turner and Walter Klein presented the proposed slate of officers to the group.

In the brief business meeting conducted by outgoing president, Miss Betty Townsend, the group voted to change the dues structure. Single memberships will be $2 per year, and couple membership, $5. Among the 35 persons present were several guests, Mrs. Joseph Purdes, Mrs. Ruth Lionberger, Miss Violet Podnar, Miss Nina Dittman, and Mr. and Mrs. William McLean.

The evening's program was on Peking (Beijing), China, which was shown through the eyes of Dr. Purdes and Miss Townsend, who visited there last June. Narrated slides covered the trip from St. Louis to San Francisco and then a 10½ hour non-stop flight to Tokyo. JAL's Nikko Naria Hotel provided a welcome overnight's rest before the 4½ hour flight to Peking.

While the group was being transported from the airport to the hotel, they had the lack of cars — the traffic jams were caused by many of the city's seven million inhabitants and their bicycles. With the exception of the taxis or trucks, most cars were driven by government officials, and there has about 500,000 miles of highways, but only about one-eighth of these are paved.

Housing in Chinese cities is scarce and very dull looking. Some high-rise apartment buildings are being constructed by the government and also by the various factories for their workers. Air pollution from the factories, which casts a haze over the sun, creates a problem for those with respiratory problems. Dr. Purdes advised persons to carry a respirator and use medication along with them if they go to China.

Many of the historical complexes feature several temples, such as the Temple of Heaven, the Hall of Prayer, the Temple of the God of Paradise, and others. Many flights of stairs abound in these areas — evidently the more steps one takes, the closer he will be to heaven. Sometimes, two temples are linked together by a long boulevard, which symbolizes that it is a long way to heaven.

The Echo Wall, outside the God of Paradise Temple, reflects sounds with the same degree of loudness at any point along the wall. When all of these remarkable structures were constructed, the sciences of geometry and sound, as well as the aesthetics of art and architecture, were applied. The speakers remarked that trying to find a Christian church in Peking was like looking for a "needle in a haystack." The Chinese government considers religion to be a superstition and thinks people would be better off to solve their problems through the study of science and political writings. Giant pandas found in the Peking Zoo are so rare that they are protected by Chinese laws. Pandas are shown in the slides were about five feet tall and weighed from 200 to 300 pounds. Zoologists are still debating how to classify the panda. Some say it is a member of the raccoon family, others say it belongs to the bear family and others maintain that it should have its own classification.

About seven miles north of Peking is the Chinese Summer Palace, formerly a rest and relaxation area for the royal families. Now it is a favorite tourist area for foreigners and the Chinese. The throne room abounds in beautiful treasures and chandeliers. Covered boats for trip on the lake and long tables in the rest areas are provided for the foreign visitors, but not the Chinese. This is the area in which one finds the stone or marble boat, but which actually is made from wood treated to look like stone.

Again, long corridors featuring ornately painted ceilings connect the various buildings. One promenade is 765 yards long — long enough for words of love to be spoken at one end and a decision on marriage to be made before one reaches the other end, it is said.

With food in mind, one has to cope with chopsticks, unless he takes a fork along. Wooden chopsticks are preferred over others. The speakers remarked that there was plenty to eat, but not much of it was recognizable. Chicken, fish and mutton were prepared in dozens of ways. The travelers did not think that they were offered any dog meat.

In the direct center of Peking is the Gate of Heavenly Peace Square, which covers about 100 acres. This is the area in which Chairman Mao first raised the flag of the People's Republic of China in 1949. Several gates, once restricted to a certain class of people, are still there. Square Chairman Mao's Memorial Hall stands in front of one of the gates and the body of the Mao lies in a crystal coffin inside the hall. Visitors line up four abreast to file into the hall. Inside they separate into two lines of two persons to view the remains.

The Forbidden City, now known as the Palace Museum, was originally the imperial palace of the Ming and Qing Dynasties (1368-1911). The palace is the most complete of the ancient Chinese architectural groups. There are more than 9,000 rooms, surrounded by a wall 33 feet high and a moat 169 feet wide. The name, The Forbidden City, was derived from the fact that originally only the emperor's household could enter the area. Within the city are five marble bridges, representing the five virtues, and more than 700 buildings, constructed mainly of wood.

The stone slabs used in the Palace Museum were quarried many miles from Peking. In order to transport them, wells were dug along the route so that, in the winter, the water could be poured on the roads to freeze. Flat-bottom boats then could pull the stone slabs over the ice.

Within the Hall of Supreme Harmony, Marco Polo was sent by the Kahn on many official tours of his kingdom. Marco Polo was in China for 24 years before he was allowed to return to his home in Venice, Italy.

For a trip to China, one's feet and legs should be in tip top condition for the walking between sites seems to last for hours, the speakers said. The trip to the Great Wall entails an hour's train ride from Peking. Foreigners ride in cars that are air conditioned and soft cushioned. The Chinese travelers have no air conditioning and the wooden seats are hard.

Much of the Great Wall is in ruins, but it is still recognized as the longest fortified wall ever built. It follows a winding course over mountains and valleys for more than 3,000 miles. It is reputed to be the only man-made structure visible from outer space. After one leaves the train, he may proceed by foot, donkey, or boat to the Great Wall.

DR. ALICE PURDES
New president

Visitors may walk along the Wall for a long distance, but it is extremely steep in many places. Started more than 2,500 years ago and built entirely by hand, it is made of granite and stone. It averages 22 feet high and 18 feet wide at the top and 22 feet wide at the base. Hand rails have been added and are useful in both ascending and descending the Wall.

A Canadian TV documentary was being filmed at the time the speakers were visiting the Great Wall. They traded a can of Florida orange juice for some "biscuits" (actually cookies), upon which the French sponsor of the show was snacking.

Three other cities — Xian, Nanjing, and Shanghai — will be featured at the February meeting of the Travelers group.

MAY LIMIT PRICE OF IMPORTED GAS
Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) will reintroduce legislation to ensure that the price of imported liquefied natural gas (LNG) charged to Illinois consumers is competitive with prices in the domestic market. A Federal Energy Regulatory Commission administrative judge recommended Jan. 28 allowing continued importation of high-priced Algerian LNG.

"While I would prefer that FERC or the Economic Regulatory Administration make a decision to discontinue importing LNG at unreasonably high prices, the time has come for Congress to move toward resolving this problem," Percy said. "It would be a grave mistake to force consumers to bear this burden." His bill would limit the maximum lawful price on imported LNG to its most common replacement fuel, Number Six fuel oil.

Convert old school to sr. citizen units

Governor James R. Thompson says the state and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) will begin a 15-year, $3.2 million rent subsidy program for rehabilitating housing in Illinois to assist elderly and low-income people. In 1983, 60 housing units will be affected.

"These federal dollars will help elderly and low-income residents pay their rent," the governor explained. "They also will provide financial incentive for private owners to rehabilitate old buildings into new, livable dwellings." Thompson said $218,880 will be used this year under HUD's Section 8 fund for the program, which will be administered by the state Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA).

The grant for 1983 includes $24,000 in first-year start-up funds. Of the 50 units in the program, which will be administered by the state Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA).

The initial project that will benefit from the rent subsidies is the renovation and conversion of the old Central School in Vandalia. A private firm, Castle Arms, will build 40 one-bedroom units in the stone and brick structure.

Eight more units will be constructed in downtown Vandalia in conjunction with the DCCA-run Main Street Illinois program designed to foster economic development in downtown areas of the state.

"This old school holds fond memories for many Fayette County residents, and we're looking forward to its conversion to housing for low-income elderly citizens," said Vandalia Mayor Neil Donnell.

DCCA will grant subsidies of up to 100 percent of the total rent of $242 for a one-bedroom unit, including utilities, in Vandalia. The units will be located near the DCCA-run Main Street Illinois program designed to foster economic development in downtown areas of the state.

Each subsidy will be determined by the income level and eligibility of the applicant.

A similar project has resulted in 39 new apartments eligible for the federal rent subsidy in a renovated hotel at Jacksonville. The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs currently is responsible for providing federal rent subsidies to 400 rental units in Illinois.

FAREWELL TO TWO. Long Lake Fire Department Chief W. Lee Adams, watches as Firefighters Robert Hale, left, and Donald Zimmerman, open pen and pencil sets presented to them as they leave the department to join the United States Army. Hale, 21, has been a member of the Junior Firefighters since 1977 and the senior firefighters since February, 1982. He is trained as an Emergency Rescue Technician and in various other department instructional programs. He will report for basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., for four years service and will receive specialized training at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, and will serve as an Emergency Medical Technician and is registered in both the state and nationally in that capacity.

Lounge violates closing law

Summons have been issued by the Madison County Circuit Court to Thomas Garrett, Curtis Jenkins and Lolita Jenkins, charging them with violation of the tavern closing law in Madison.

Thomas Garrett owns the El Capalero Lounge at 800 Jackson St., where both the Jenkins are employed. Madison police allege that, since Jan. 1, the lounge has operated past closing time five times, with the latest incident occurring at 2:28 a.m., Tuesday, Jan. 25, when police noticed vehicles parked near the lounge. 15 customers in the bar area and three in the video game room.

Curtis Jenkins was working behind the bar and Donald Garrett was working as night manager, police allege. Police said that Garrett, a Madison alderman and Madison School Board member, alleged that they were trying to get someone to run against him in the coming city election and suggested that was why authorities had been coming into the lounge.

Police said they left Donald Garrett "ranting" in the empty lounge. He has not been charged in the case.

Prior to that, police allege they went to the El Capalero and found it open after closing hours on Jan. 3, Jan. 21 and Jan. 22, when a final warning was issued.

At 3:35 a.m., Sunday, Jan. 23, police allege that 100 people were still drinking in the lounge and Curtis Jenkins was told to close the bar. Donald Garrett was there that night and was told to come to police headquarters.

Legal closing time in Madison is 2 a.m. during the week and 3 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

Girl Scouts to mark 71st anniversary

Special activities and programs are in the planning stages, on a national level, to celebrate the 71st anniversary of Girl Scouting and the 21st anniversary of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council scheduled for March 12 through March 13.

Girl Scouting has opened new worlds of thought and action to nearly four generations of American girls. Today's Girl Scouts are preparing for the expanded roles women can play in society, discovering new worlds, and creating new roles.

Finding new worlds in scouting begins with the individual girl working at her own level and pace. Caring leaders help her gain the security to reach out to other people, find new interests, and accept new challenges.

For some girls, the new world they are discovering is Scouting is camping. They learn that outdoor living is a team effort and observe nature to see the connection among all life forms.

Career-minded Girl Scouts are discovering new worlds of job possibilities. They go on field trips to places such as newspaper plants, hospitals, and fire houses where the workday never ends or where it begins at night. They begin relating to the business and professional community in a responsible way.

Adults find new worlds in Girl Scouting too. Men, senior citizens, and even entire families are involved in volunteer or long term projects. Women with no paid work experience are discovering they have valuable skills and are learning to share them with others.

Goals set for all Girl Scouts are a deepening self-awareness, contributing to society, relating to others and developing values. As in the past each troop will be encouraged to plan its own activities marking the anniversary week, such as having the mayors of the Quad Cities sign proclamations, put displays in business places, libraries, schools, banks and post offices. They also will host social events, attend a church of their choice on Girl Scout Sunday and visit sites of interest in their own locale.

PLANT EVACUATED AFTER BOMB HOAX

Employees evacuated Tara Corp., 18th Street and Cleveland Blvd., during the weekend after a bomb called the firm, saying a bomb was in the plant and set to go off in five minutes. The caller then hung up the telephone.

A security guard told police that the man, 3000 of the shift, police learned. No bomb was found. An investigation is continuing.

The workers remained outside the building about 20 minutes before the plant was shut down for the remainder of the shift, police learned. No bomb was found. An investigation is continuing.

STEAL CURRENCY, OLD COINS, BONDS

Burglars got inside a metal utility shed attached to the home of Gisela Peters Jr., 2724 Dale Ave., then opened a bedroom window to gain access to the house. She reported at 5:55 p.m. Monday.

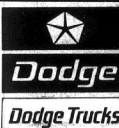

The master bedroom was ransacked and more than $100 worth of old coins, $300 in currency, two gold rings and $1,500 in bonds were stolen. A car was seen parked near a rear fence at the house earlier that day, police were advised.

Niedringhaus Church honors three members

Three members of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Mrs. Eva Evans, Charles Reimers and Burl Treadwell, were elected as honorary members of the Administrative Board of the church and presented engraved plaques to mark the event, according to the Rev. Louis Frick, pastor.

Mrs. Evans became a member of Niedringhaus in 1914 and has been actively involved in church programs and projects since that time. She organized the Ladies Quilting Group 30 years ago and quilted until two years ago when the group disbanded. She also was the benevolence treasurer for 20 years. Mrs. Evans' two sons, Truxton and Lynn Allen are also active at the church.

WOMEN TO CONDUCT CHURCH OBSERVANCE

The United Methodist Women of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church will conduct their annual Call to Prayer and Self-Denial observance at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 10, at the church, at Niedringhaus Avenue and 20th Street. Major events will include the quiet day service and descriptions of the types of mission projects for which a special offering is given.

The Women's Division of the General Board of Global Ministries of The United Methodist Church sponsors the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial. This year the offering will go to two areas of concern, "Towards a World of Peace with Justice" (international) and "Deaconess and Home Missionary Pension Fund" (national).

Ruth A. Daugherty, president of the Women's Division, has written the quiet day service, "Shadows in theme is peace. The service supports equality and justice for all Christians, as a community of loving people, are invited to deepen their trust, respect, and love for all people. About 1.4 million women in more than 25,000 local units of United Methodist Women will join in this observance.

Charles Reimers came to the church in 1930 and has held many offices and participated in various activities at the church. He has also been an active member of many community organizations. His wife Winifred Reimers, Burl Treadwell and his wife Katharina became members of Niedringhaus in 1951 and spent many years working with the Youth Department. He has held various offices and has supported and worked with the sports program at the church. They have four adult children, Kathy, Linda, Cindy and Gary.

Carl Mathias, chairman of the Administrative Board presented plaques which were engraved with "For Service to the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church" (name) and he was elected as an honorary member of the Administrative Board.

Shower honors Mrs. Withers

A cradle shower honoring Mrs. Ruthann Withers was given last week in the fellowship hall of the First Church of the Nazarene.

Hostesses included Beverly Johnson, Karen Snyder and Pam Embick. Games were played and prizes awarded to the winners followed by the guest of honor opening her gifts.

Refreshments were later served to Ann Kovalchik, Ruth, Nancy and Janice Johnson, Tammy Baugh, Shirley and Chris Allen, Kim Withers, Bettie Howard, Fern Derossiet, Marquita and Gina Roddy. Kaye and Karen Sykes, Marcia, Laura and Brett Barron, Leslie and Andrea Stovall, Jan and Heather Bain, Verlyan, Cherle and Autumn Byrd, Alma Stacy, Lorne Whitington, Jean Milton, Gloria and Cindy Teller, Denise Ramirez, Lori Beckley and Melinda Worries.

TO DISCUSS VARIOUS CONCEPTS OF DEATH
The Rev. Francis X. Cleary will discuss the medical and theological concepts of death Monday at 7:30 p.m., in the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The free discussion is part of a series of monthly conferences examining topics in contemporary Catholic theology. The series is sponsored by the SUIE Newman Student Union, a Catholic student group.

Cleary is an associate professor in the department of theological studies at St. Louis University and specializes in Biblical exegesis and theology. He lectures locally and nationally and has written a number of articles on the subjects of suffering, death and the afterlife.

For additional information about the discussion, interested persons may contact the SUIE Religious Center at 1-692-3246.

NEW MEMBERS, Tracy Rich, left, and Andrea Boyer initiated into Bethel 43. Order of Job's Daughters, in ceremonies conducted at the Masonic Temple. After the meeting a social hour was held in the dining room where the initiates were welcomed by all members.

Bethel holds initiation

An initiation ceremony was conducted by Sherry Hancock, queen of Bethel 43, for Tracy Rich and Andrea Boyer at the Masonic Temple last week.

After a ceremonial the initiates introduced their families and "big sisters" were assigned.

Those escorted and introduced were Mrs. Rebecca Slate, Bethel guardian, and Ralph Baker, associate Bethel guardian and chairman of shepherd of Gabriel Shrine 78, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem. Martin Love, past associate grand guardian of the State of Illinois, Kathleen Offit and Jeanie Holt, both past queens of Bethel 43.

Council members present included Charles Root, secretary, Dale O'Bea, treasurer and Worshipful Master of Triple Lodge 835, Shirley Lane, director of music, Sandy Simpson, director of epochs and worthy high priestess of Gabriel Shrine 78, Mary Hancock, director of paraphernalia, Richard Bills, promoter of finance and Judy Joyce, promoter of sociability.

Members of the Bethel attended a princess luncheon at the Fairview Heights Masonic Temple on Jan. 15 and took a trip to the planetarium on Jan. 13. Plans were also discussed for a trip to Chicago on March 5 for the grand pinning.

Jeanie Holt, librarian, gave a report on "The Golden Chain of Friendship."

The meeting closed with a song by the Job's Daughters entitled, "Dear Wonderful Jesus" accompanied by Mrs. Fran Holt at the piano.

Refreshments were served in the dining room after the session. The next meeting will highlight "Parents Night" the queen announced.

St. Peter Pe-School has class openings

Students enrolled at St. Peter Pre-School, 2103 Cleveland Blvd., have entered into a second semester of classes centered on activities relating to kindergarten readiness.

Children in the 4-year old class, which meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m., are learning to print their names and numbers, developing counting skills, working on number and letter recognition, shapes and colors. They also will develop many aspects in preparation for school in the fall.

The 3-year old class, meets on Tuesday and Thursday from 9 to 11:30 a.m., has started a special unit called "color of the week" in addition to the regular planned curriculum.

Pupils are working with one special color each week throughout the forthcoming year.

BAND 'FANTASY' TO PERFORM AT SUIE
"Fantasy," a top-40 band from St. Louis, will perform from noon to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 9, in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The band's performance is one of a number of events the university has scheduled in observance of February as Black History Month. The performance is free of charge and open to the public.

For additional information, or to obtain a listing of Black History Month programs, interested persons may call the Student Program Board at 1-692-2619.

SUIE RESCHEDULES LECTURE
The lecture, "Writing Is a Technology: That Restructures Consciousness," by Walter J. Ong, S.J., has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in Lovejoy Library auditorium at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The second in the series on "The Changing Role of the Humanities," the talk originally had been set for Jan. 21, when inclement weather forced its postponement.

A nationally-known scholar, speaker and writer, Father Ong is University Professor of Humanities, William E. Haren Professor of English, and Professor of Humanities in Psychiatry at St. Louis University. His appearance is part of the contribution of the School of Humanities to the SUIE 25th Anniversary celebration.

Ong's latest book is "Orality and Literacy: The Technologizing of the Word," published in hard cover and paperback editions by Methuen in London and New York. It reviews revolutionary new thought on speech-writing contrast from ancient through current cultures.

Close attention is given to implications for speech-act and reader-response theory and the teaching of reading and writing skills.

Candidates declare themselves for various April 12 races

Most incumbents facing re-election April 12 will find themselves running against at least one eager opponent, but other races have apparently proven unattractive.

The filing period closed Tuesday for candidates seeking various offices in Granite City, Madison, Venice and the village of Pontoon Beach, but in Pontoon Beach, which will elect a president, clerk and three trustees, four of those openings will go unchallenged. Granite City's once-hottest superintendent-independent-of-streets race will be a one-man show, as will be the case in four of the city's aldermanic contests.

Filing petitions for positions this spring follow, with incumbents' names marked with an "I."

GRANITE CITY

SIUE students get schedules next week

Next week, students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will have the opportunity to pick up their class schedules for spring quarter.

The Office of Admissions and Records has announced that schedules can be obtained at several centrally-located campus sites, rather than being mailed.

Distribution of the schedules will begin at 8:15 a.m. Monday, Feb. 7, at the Ticket Office and the Information Office in the University Center and the Enrollment Center, Room 1308, in the Rendleman Building.
After 2 p.m. Monday, schedules will be available at the Information Office in the University Center and the Office of Admissions and Records, Room 1307, of the Rendleman Building.

Evening students may pick up their copies in the Office of Evening Student Services in the Rendleman Building, Room 1207, Monday through Thursday until 9 p.m., Friday until 7 p.m., and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Copies of the schedules should be restricted to one person.

Double taxation
The United States and Britain signed a treaty on March 15, 1979, on double taxation.

Campaign fund plan by Sen. Dixon

Senator Alan J. Dixon has introduced new legislation calling for public financing in general elections of United States senators.

The bill, which Dixon originally introduced late in the last session, provides for voluntary participation by candidates.

In order to qualify for public matching funds, a candidate would indicate his participation within a specified period of time and accept limitations on the amounts and sources of his contributions.

A candidate would be limited to a maximum expenditure calculated through a formula using a base of $250,000, plus 15 cents multiplied by the voting age population of the state.

The dollar for dollar matching funds would be limited to contributions of up to $100 from individuals. However, the matching funds mechanism would not be triggered for funds received from a political party or political action committee.

A candidate could refuse public matching funds and his or her authorized committee then could raise and spend as much money as it feels necessary.

Dixon also testified before a Senate Rules Committee hearing on campaign financing. He said escalating costs of Senate campaigns and the seriously jeopardized integrity of the Senate as an institution.

"I feel the plan contained in this bill encourages active participation by a broad spectrum of individual contributors, and it places a cap on expenditures by candidates opting for public financing," Dixon said.

Both of these developments would address weaknesses in the present system, which favors incumbents and encourages extravagant campaign spending.

MEETING OF MUSEUM FRIENDS
The Friends of the Madison County Historical Museum will meet Wednesday, Feb. 9, at 10:30 a.m. at the museum, 715 North Main St., Edwardsville.

Mrs. William Delicate will be in charge of the program, assisted by the museum staff. Topics to be discussed are the genealogical library and its use, interesting books and the great variety of questions and inquiries received by the staff.

Area residents are being invited to bring a sandwich, stay for lunch and visit.

The museum welcomes visitors Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., and Sundays, 1 until 4 p.m. Further information about the museum may be obtained by calling 1-656-7562.

Nameoki files countersuit claiming overcharges for use of Granite ambulances

In retaliation to a suit filed against Nameoki Township for non-payment of charges for ambulance service, township officials are filing a countersuit against Granite City which alleges that Granite City actually owes them $610.

Township Supervisor Harry Briggs indicated that Attorney Richard Allen will handle the suit for the township.

"We think that he will do a good job for us," Briggs stated. "We have a good case and I don't see any problem with it."

The Granite City suit alleges that Nameoki Township owes $1,330 for charges incurred by persons who used the service, but who do not live in Nameoki Township.

Briggs also claims that the township does not owe the retainer fee of $991, since they never entered into a contract for ambulance service with Granite City.

Nameoki's suit alleges that Granite City actually owes them $610. "We have a list of names of people who paid Granite City for the service, but Granite City turned around and took our money for the same people," Briggs stated.

The hearing date for Nameoki's suit is Feb. 9.

Nutritionists study iodine

After years of being faced with the problem of getting enough iodine to prevent goiter, some Midwesterners now may face a potential problem of getting too much, partly due to increased prevalence of iodine-containing compounds in dairy products and commercial baked goods.

Robert Reber, University of Illinois nutrition specialist, says experts are not advising cutting back the use of iodized salt to compensate for the increased availability from other sources.

Both the dairy and baking industries have taken measures to reduce iodine levels in their products, he notes.

Iodine is a component part of the hormones thyroxine and triiodothyronine that are produced by the thyroid gland and which perform many essential metabolic functions in the body.

When dietary iodine is lacking, the thyroid gland enlarges in an attempt to make more of these hormones, and goiter results.

In recent years, concern about iodine has shifted from preventing deficiencies to guarding against possible excesses.

Too much iodine adversely affects the thyroid gland and cause thyroid-related disorders or a type of goiter.

While many nutritionists think that 1,000 micrograms per day is the upper limit of safety for adults, some studies have indicated that intakes as high as 2,000 cause no serious problems.

According to Reber, the average American consumes between 10 and 12 grams of salt daily, and three grams of that amount are iodized salt. Since iodized salt contains about 76 micrograms of iodine per gram, many people are getting slightly more than 200 micrograms of iodine daily just from iodized salt.

Individual intakes vary greatly. Although iodized salt represents a substantial part of the iodine intake of many people, most experts are not recommending its use be discontinued.

In fact, there is insufficient evidence that widespread thyroid disorders are occurring because of excess dietary iodine, Reber says.

Most nutritionists continue to agree that use of iodized salt is advisable, partly because many people are already cutting back on their salt usage because of excess sodium intake has been linked to hypertension in genetically susceptible individuals. Also, many individuals do not consume foods such as dairy and baked goods that have become rich sources of iodine.

In short, says Reber, while some people are being urged to cut down a bit on their total salt intake, they still are being encouraged to select iodized salt for home use.

100 HOURS' PUBLIC SERVICE MANDATED
Manuel Wallace III, 17, of 520 Third St., Venice, charged Sept. 7 with committing a burglary in that city, has been sentenced to serve 30 months of probation and to perform 100 hours of public service work.

Circuit Judge Philip Rarick also fined Wallace $300 and $30 costs and ordered restitution of $293.

He accepted a guilty plea in December at the Madison County Courthouse.

College aid grants, loans

State Rep. Sam Wolf (D), Granite City, this week called attention to Feb. 20-26, which has been proclaimed Financial Aid Awareness Week by the governor of Illinois.

Any individual interested in obtaining a college, university or technical education but who cannot afford the full cost may be eligible for local, federal or state financial aid.

Grants, loans and work study programs are awarded on the basis of demonstrated financial need, merit and the availability of funds. They may be used for either part- or full-time study, Wolf said.

Major grants include the Illinois State Scholarship Commission's monetary award program, offering up to $2,000 annually toward tuition and fees for Illinois residents attending eligible Illinois institutions; and the federal Pell Grant, offering up to $1,800 per year toward educational expenses at over 7,000 post high school institutions throughout the U.S.

In addition, three federal programs are available as well as three loan programs through direct application to participating banks.

Applicants may contact their high school or college counselor for the correct application form and should apply immediately for the 1983-84 school year, Wolf related.

During Financial Aid Awareness Week, most communities, high schools and colleges will be sponsoring financial aid presentations.

For deadlines and more details on federal, state, and local financial aid, Quad-Cities may contact John Jenetten, director of student work and financial assistance, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Box 60, Student Work, Edwardsville, or the financial aid office of the institution they plan to attend, Rep. Wolf concluded.

FINED $565 ON CONDUCT CHARGE
Called to a residence in the 2400 block of Illinois Avenue during the weekend, where a man allegedly was creating a disturbance, officers arrested Gary Ely, 23, of 2409 Bryan Ave., charging him with disorderly conduct.

While in the squad car, Ely complained of feeling ill and was taken by ambulance from police headquarters to St. Elizabeth's Medical Center.

Ely was released from the hospital Monday and was returned to jail. He appeared at 1 p.m. Monday in the Granite City court, where he pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay a fine of $565.

Personnel committee tables policy for dismissing appointed officials

By JIM SCHLUETER
The Madison County Board's personnel committee has tabled a proposed policy for the dismissal of an appointed official.

Committee Chairman Fred Dalton, Collinsville, brought a resolution to the committee which said an official may have a hearing before the personnel committee if charges for his dismissal have been brought to the board.

Dalton's proposal also calls for the personnel committee to present its findings to the executive committee which would then make a recommendation to the full board. The executive committee is a 16-member panel made up of all committee chairmen.

It appeared the resolution would be approved, but Committee Member Michael Semanisin, Maryville, wanted to study the proposal further before voting on it.

Dalton, who came up with the resolution after meeting with Director of Administration Mary Kane and Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer of Granite City, said there was no need to rush the resolution's approval. He said the committee probably would not be able to deal with the controversy surrounding Supervisor of Assessments James Barton of Granite City, an appointed official, until a policy is determined.

Barton has been indicted on charges of alleged bribery in connection with a zoning request by Nameoki Township landowner Bill Nichols. These charges have influenced the county to come up with a procedure for handling the possible

$10,000 fine on cannabis charge

Patrick McNeash, 29, of 2314 W. 23rd St. has been placed on 30-month probation and ordered to pay a $10,000 fine and $1,000 costs. Circuit Judge P. J. O'Neill presided. McNeash pleaded guilty in December to possessing 500 grams of cannabis on Oct. 19.

The charge was filed Oct. 26 by the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

ISSUE WARRANTS

Daniel A. Messick, 26, of 2141 Cleveland Blvd, was arrested at 21st and Monroe streets last week on warrants alleging failure to pay the fine on charges of criminal trespass to property, criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct. He appeared in court and bond was set at $250 cash.

dismissal of an appointed official.

Also, Board Member Jack Frandsen, Alhambra, called for Barton's dismissal at January's full board meeting. The resolution was referred to the personnel committee, but Barton has not been discussed at any meeting since then, Dalton

Prepare for annual eagle census

The Southwestern Illinois Audubon Society met recently at the Union Savings and Loan, 101 W. Main St., Collinsville and a film, "The American Bald Eagle," was shown to 16 members in preparation for the annual eagle census on Saturday, Feb. 19.

The group will meet at 9 a.m. on the levee at the south side of the Jefferson Barracks Bridge approach to conduct the census. Guests are welcome and all planning to attend are asked to dress warmly and bring a lunch and hot drink.

The group will travel in automobiles to Fort Charles State Park where they will eat lunch and visit the museum at noon. Richard Call will present a short program at the lodge.

On Feb. 21, the group will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Union Savings and Loan and Melody Ray, of Principia College, will present a slide program on saving the endangered Loggerhead Sea Turtle. She and other volunteers worked on a project at an island off South Carolina during the summer.

said. "Honestly, I don't know what we will do," Dalton said. "After we get a resolution to the board (on a dismissal policy), we will have a specific way to deal with it (the Barton case). Right now we don't have any way to deal with a request for the dismissal of a department head."

The group also will visit the basement and house of the St. Louis Zoo Aviary with a zoo employee on March 5. Persons interested in obtaining more information on any of the society's planned events may call 831-1352.

STATE FIRE MARSHAL APPROVES GAS CLIPS

Using an emergency rule change, the Office of the State Fire Marshal has approved the use of hold-open clips on gasoline pumps at self-service gas stations.

The federal government rescinded the national regulation prohibiting hold-open latches, but state rules and regulations prohibiting them have remained in effect. The rule change in regulations on "Gasoline and Volatile Oils Relating to Service Stations" now permits their use.

Hold-open latches, devices or clips are attached to the hose nozzle to permit the customer to fill his tank without hand-holding the latch.

11-MONTH SENTENCE FOR MADISON THEFT

Robert Carter, 22, Alton, has been sentenced to 11 months in a state correctional institution by Circuit Judge Philip Rarick for a petty theft in Madison's Circuit Judge Philip Rarick, who presided, dismissed a related battery allegation filed in Madison. The case became a matter of court record on June 18, 1982; date of the offense was not listed. A guilty plea to retail theft was submitted in November.

CARPET TOOLS GONE

Robert Odum, 2500 Lincoln Ave., reported the theft of $400 worth of carpet laying tools from his camper truck, which was parked in the lot at Pete and Mary's Tavern, 2409 Lincoln Ave., last week.

Horse race board throws out results of election

By JUDY TAPLIN
The latest election in the Illinois Division of the Horsemen's Benevolence and Protective Association has been set aside because of allegations of fraud according to the Collinsville Herald has learned.

The HBPA's national board of directors took the action Friday, and set a hearing for Feb. 7.

The Illinois Division of the HBPA is composed of the owners and trainers who race thoroughbred horses at Fairmount Park Racetrack.

Nationally, the organization has 26 divisions—the two in Illinois are the Chicago Division and the Illinois Division.

Voting on a new 11-member board of directors for the owners and trainers at Fairmount Park began in September and continued throughout most of October.

The national board of directors is looking into charges that as many as 200 of 600 ballots cast in that election may be fraudulent. Among other things, it is believed that not all the ballots reached the persons for whom they were intended.

Eugene Young, a trainer from Collinsville, says he has a friend who hasn't raced a horse at Fairmount for five years and who did not receive a ballot. But Young said someone signed his friend's ballot and tuned it in.

He noted that only owners and trainers who have a horse at Fairmount in 1981 or 1982 were eligible to vote in the election.

Young, who with others has been involved in a petition drive seeking a probe of the election by the national board, said fraud was suspected from the time the votes first started coming in, in September.

He said Tony Chamblin, one of the HBPA's national officers, had discovered the apparently fraudulent practices.

In the election, John A. Kennedy of the Chicago area was re-elected as president of the Illinois Division. He had no opposition. Young said as many as 20 owners and 20 trainers sought the 10 remaining positions on the local board. (Five owners and five trainers were elected.)

Young said he has been actively involved for the past six or seven years "in trying to get rid of certain people in the organization. We knew something was amiss; something was not right, but were not being able to prove it."

Young said that the national board's action Friday nullifies the election. He would believe the Feb.

7 hearing will make that official. Registered letters sent to all those who were candidates in the election state the time of the hearing as 8 a.m. in the Cleveland Room of the Marriott Hotel near the Lambert International Airport in St. Louis.

Young was one of the candidates unsuccessful in the election.

The Illinois Division of the HBPA contains about 1,000 owners and trainers at Fairmount Park Racetrack.

Police cited for attendance

Granite City Police Department officers were recognized for their last year's attendance records by Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer and First Ward Alderman Everett Morlen, police committee chairman.

Veizer has issued the 1982 Attendance Honor Roll which lists 24 department employees.

"I am proud of our record and our department," Veizer stated in a letter to Mayor Paul Schuler and city council members.

"This record does not tell the entire story, as we have men who have lengthy consecutive years of employment that, for reasons beyond their control, were hospitalized... Each of them has been commended for their loyalty also," the letter said.

The honor roll includes two employees, who have served for 15 and 14 years respectively with perfect attendance. In addition, two officers were cited for six-year perfect attendance.

The length of perfect attendance for other officers and employees were: one five years; two, three years; and 10, two years.

Honored for 15 years was Sgt. Joseph Kastelic and 14-year honors went to Capt. Gerald Pinkerton. Detectives Kip Pomeroy and Craig Nonn have six consecutive years of perfect attendance and Lt. George Gallas was honored for five consecutive years.

Detective Secretary Judy Dallas has four years without an absence and Detective Jerry Wilson and Secretary Marian Henrich have achieved three.

Honored for two years without missing work were Chief Veizer, Patrolmen Sam Avedisian, Stephen Willard, Richard Schafman, Timothy Lyerla, Michael Chosich and Walter Milton. Sgt. Donald Knight, Secretary Nadine Harrison and Custodian Mike Greco.

Honored for one year without an absence were Capt. Harry Mitchell; Capt. Robert Astorian and Patrolmen David Rosenberg, David Anderson and Michael Gagich (since he was employed in May).

PROBATION SENTENCE FOR 1982 BREAK-IN

Two years of probation and a fine of $500 plus $50 costs have been ordered by Associate Judge Edward Ferguson.

Curtis Mayes, 20, of 923 Webster St., Madison, was charged with a May 3 burglary and also a May 3 attempt to commit a residential burglary. Both charges were filed May 10, and he submitted guilty pleas Oct. 5. Sentencing took place in the late fall.

Wedding Gown Storage

Grandma had the right idea on the way to store her wedding gown—in darkness and in a dry place.

Drycleaning experts say the traditional method was sensible, measured by today's scientific standards.

Many an heirloom has been carefully wrapped in tissue paper, often blue, and stored in a trunk in the attic. Modern storage experts recommend the tissue paper, but there is no scientific reason for its being blue.

The tissue should be laid between the folds of the garment, thus protecting each layer from the weight of the layer above. Thus the folds are rounded rather than creased. Creasing over a prolonged period causes damage to the fabric.

According to experts, probably the biggest enemy of an heirloom gown is moisture. That's why Grandmother headed for the dry attic, rather than the damp basement. Dampness causes mildew, a fungus that thrives on cotton, linen and rayon.

Perspiration, spilled champagne or even greasy stains from the wedding cake may cause hard-to-eradicate stained areas. It is recommended that a gown be sent to the dry-cleaner as soon after the wedding as possible to prevent ruining a possible heirloom gown.

Married when the year is new,
He'll be loving, kind and true.
When February birds do mate,
You may wed, nor dread your fate.
If you wed when March wind's blow,
Joy and sorrow both you'll know.
Marry in April when you can,
Joy for maiden and for man.
Marry in the month of May,
You will surely rue the day.
Marry when June roses grow,
Over land and sea you'll go.
Those who in July do wed,
Must labor always for their bread.
Whoever wed in August be,
Many a change are sure to see.
Marry in September's shine,
Your living will be rich and fine.
If in October you do marry,
Love will come, but riches marry.
If you wed in bleak November,
Only joys will come, remember.
When December snows fall fast,
Marry, and true love will last.

Caring for Silverware

If you've received sterling or silverplate for wedding gifts, you don't have to be told how lucky you are! But you may want to be told about keeping that silver looking its loveliest.

Experts recommend the daily use and care of silverware to keep it at its best.

When cleaning silver, first wash it in hot, soapy water with a mild liquid soap.

Polish and clean with a special silver-cleaning compound and then rinse silver immediately in very hot water.

Dry silver thoroughly with a clean, soft cloth. Sterling should be wrapped and stored in cloth holders.

Preserve Wedding Memories

Your wedding day is one of the happiest and most memorable days of your life. And, you can preserve every joyous moment in professional wedding candid photos.

In addition to the traditional formal wedding photographs of the bride alone, with the groom and photos of the entire wedding party, your professional photographer will take candid photos of the wedding and reception. Encourage him to take many so you will have a thorough record of the eventful day.

Professional wedding candid photos preserve the festi-ivities and realities of the occasion. Wedding candid photos range from photos of the bride's dressing room preparations to the newlywed's first dance as Mr. and Mrs. to their departure for the honeymoon. They can include special and unexpected moments during the reception, too.

Remember to make an appointment with your professional photographer as soon as your wedding date is set. You will want to discuss with him the types of photographs to be taken, the locale of the wedding so he can be prepared with appropriate film and equipment, and the sizes and styles of various wedding albums—the ones for you, your parents and in-laws. Your photographer is experienced in these matters and can answer any questions you may have.

When In Rome . . .

The ancient Romans broke cake over the bride's head at the end of wedding ceremonies. The cake crumbs were then gathered up by the wedding guests as good luck tokens.

HAPPILY EVER AFTER

Successful marriages begin with proposals made in natural settings. "In the middle of the day under ordinary conditions... the proposal itself should be made in sincere and earnest language... often the more simple the proposal the more forcibly it expresses the suitor's feelings." From the Book of Etiquette, Lady Troubridge, 1913.

Wedding Cake Traditions

Back in pioneer days it was a popular custom for the friends of the bride to supply the wedding cake. Friends brought a single cake layer, usually a spice cake and a homemade cranberry jam, peach preserves, currant jelly or other filling. At the church, of home of the bride, one layer was stacked on the other with a different filling in between to form a high "stack" cake.

Today a wedding cake can be anything from a simple round or heart-shaped layer cake to a cake in the shape of a large zucchini (ordered by a couple that met in a health food restaurant). Most brides still prefer a traditional tiered cake with traditional white frosting. Decorations are formed from frosting or pastel-colored fudge. The cake itself, however, is the same throughout. Popular are cakes made with tiers of different flavored cakes such as a four-layer cake featuring tasty genoise, nut, fudge, and cranberry-nut flavored tiers.

Like our ancestors, sometimes each flavored layer is made by a different person, then frozen until assembled and iced. At the wedding, each tier is sliced, allowing guests to enjoy their favorite flavors.

Another innovation is a four-tier cake — tier one was a white cake, tier two was a chocolate cake, tier three topped by two cake tiers, one filled with petit fours, the other with candies.

Coasters Are an Absorbing Subject For Newlyweds

The coaster, a necessity in all households, is a little helper which is much misunderstood by the new Mr. and Mrs. who have never before taken care of furniture, or guests, either.

The main idea of the coaster is to absorb moisture, not just to give the drinker something pretty or amusing to put his glass on.

A coaster that is non-absorbent is like no coaster at all, and that includes plain wood, metal trays, unlined plastic sliders and the fancy silver and glass versions you received for a wedding present.

What does work? Foam rubber is good but not too gorgeous. Several thicknesses of cocktail napkins are good too, the soft, not the slick kind, but the top one may cling to the glass. Cork-lined wood and pressed paper may also cling but they do absorb.

One of the best ideas, if you have the time, is colored terry toweling. Cut into small squares, sew together several thicknesses and perhaps embroider your initials on each one. These are absorbent, non-cling, and pretty.

WEDDINGS FOR ALL AGES

If you believe that you are too old to be married, think again. The oldest bridegroom in history, so far as is known, was Ralph Cambridge, who was 105 when he married his 70-year-old wife in South Africa in 1971, according to The Guinness Book of Trivia (A & W Visual Library) by Bruce D. Wither-spoon.

Calling all brides: it's never too soon to learn how to save!

Today you see more and more people shopping in the supermarkets with a wad of redeemable coupons.

Shopping with coupons has gone beyond saving a few cents. Rising supermarket prices have made it a necessity, but have you ever wondered how profitable it can be?

You may be a casual coupon clipper but, for many people, refunding has become a profitable home business which they run from the kitchen table.

Top refunders can save up to 90 percent of their grocery bill each month. If their grocery bill is $300 each month and they receive $450 in refunds, they are receiving $450 clear.

Being a supershopper means knowing how to get the coupons we're all so familiar with mailed to your door. It also means knowing how to get information on loads of manufacturers' refund offers which we're not so familiar with.

Give Them Luggage

A gift of luggage is sure to be appreciated by new-layers, especially if it's given well in advance of the wedding.

To make sure you get the best value in luggage, keep these points in mind while shopping:

Make sure handles are attached securely with rivets or screws, preferably reinforced and recessed.

Check to see that linings are attached to the entire side of the case and not just to the edges.

If a suitcase is designed to open at a 90-degree angle, make sure that there are stays to prop up the lid. If a bag is designed to open flat, check hinges to see that it actually does open flat.

Keep in mind that while soft luggage is lightweight and easy to store, it won't give as much protection to contents as molded luggage; however, the latter is usually more expensive and weighs more.

Whatever type of luggage you decide on, you'll find a wide selection of styles and prices to choose from at local shops.

Mrs. Fryntzko candidate for Administrator of Year Award

The Granite City Association of Educational Office Personnel (IAEOP) selected Mrs. Agnes Fryntzko, principal of Parkview School, as their candidate for the IAEOP 1983 Administrator of the Year Award, at a meeting held at Granite City High School last week.

Mrs. Irene Hatscher, president, opened the 7:30 p.m. session and announced the award recipient will be selected this month.

The committee for Boeses' Night, which includes Dorothy Larner, Betty Williams and Arlene Haldeman, presented a short skit relative to the event and announced the date for the affair is scheduled for March 24.

Mrs. Haldeman gave a report on the IAEOP Spring Conference which will take place on April 23 and 24 in Springfield, Ill. She announced several members are planning to attend.

Miss Paula Tegel, a business student at South High School, will be the association's nominee for the IAEOP Marion T. Woods Scholarship Award of $500. The award requires all entrants to be a graduating high school senior who has applied for admission to a higher education institution.

Another of the requirements is that the student plans to enter the secretarial profession, preferably in the educational field. Mrs. Joannette Holder, business coordinator and teacher at South High School, aided Miss Tegel in compiling the necessary information to be sent to the state committee, it was noted.

For the entertainment segment of the meeting, Mrs. Betty Harris introduced Marvin Rensing, biology instructor at South High School and an extensive traveler, who gave a slide presentation on a safari to Africa.

Notable sites of the tour included Nairobi, Kenya, Cape of Good Hope, Victoria Falls, Sugar Loaf Mountain, Mount Kilimanjaro and Rio de Janeiro. Included in the pictorial review were exotic birds, flowers, animal reserves, hospitals, reptiles, terrain and inhabitants of the area.

Hostesses for the evening were Betty Harris, Vera Smolar and Helen Favier. Refreshments were served to those named and to Martha Rochester, Marcella Pichler, Pat Usanoff, Bertha Milania, Frisilla Consiglio, Gladys Wallace, Marge Burdige, Dorothy Larner, Aelene Smith, Lucille Caban, Irene Williams, Marge King, Barbara Schreiber, and Phyllis Pickler.

Members of Eta Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority were entertained last week with dinner at Erav's Restaurant hosted by two chapter pledges, Madames Jan Greenhouse and Debbie Wilson.

After dinner, card games were played and prizes awarded to Millie Greathouse, Kathryn Weddell, Mary Hassler, Martha Ruth Thomas, Dorothy Costello and Hilda Schroeder.

Other members attending were Lorraine Butler, Lois Hodge, Shirley Morgan, Mary Lou Richeson, Dolores Sheridan and Mary Evalyne Yencho.

Party honors Ryan Moenster

Ryan Moenster celebrated his second birthday at a party hosted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. (Dora Ann) Moenster Jr., at their home last week.

Red and white appointments complimented a large birthday cake featuring a little boy driving a fire engine. A 10-year birthday candle, a gift to Ryan when he was born, burned during the party.

Guests celebrating with Ryan included: Mr. and Mrs. Sidney (Pauline) Sternberg, Ryan's maternal grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. (Vera) Moenster Sr., his paternal grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Bill (Sompt) Sternberg and children, Sandy, Kristine and Tony; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Ginger) Moenster and children, Chris, Todd and Jamie; Mr. Price and daughter, Peggy; Mr. and Mrs. Bob (Sandy) Bauer and son, Stephen; Mr. and Mrs. David (Annie) Moenster; and Peter Dycus.

Social meeting of Eta Chapter

Members of Eta Chapter of Phi Tau Omega Sorority were entertained last week with dinner at Erav's Restaurant hosted by two chapter pledges, Madames Jan Greenhouse and Debbie Wilson.

After dinner, card games were played and prizes awarded to Millie Greathouse, Kathryn Weddell, Mary Hassler, Martha Ruth Thomas, Dorothy Costello and Hilda Schroeder.

Other members attending were Lorraine Butler, Lois Hodge, Shirley Morgan, Mary Lou Richeson, Dolores Sheridan and Mary Evalyne Yencho.

ILLINOIS 6th in number of aged
 Illinois ranks sixth in the number of people 65 and older, trailing California, New York, Florida, Pennsylvania and Texas, Peg R. Blaser said this week. She heads the Illinois Department on Aging.
 She also cited the following data on aging Illinois citizens:
 1. About one in every nine persons in Illinois is 65 or over.
 2. In this century, the percent of Illinois' population 65 and older almost tripled (4 percent in 1900 to 11 percent in 1980).
 3. The older population in Illinois is growing older. In 1980, the 65-plus population was over 75 years of age. In 1980, 38.7 percent of the population 65 and older was over 75 years of age.
 4. In 1980, more than 1,500 Illinoisans were 100 years or older, over 6,000 between 95 and 99; and over 25,000 between 90 and 94.
 5. The 65-plus population in Illinois is 11 percent women and 33.3 percent men.
 6. The proportion of population 65-plus varies by race. In 1980, 12.3 percent of the white population was 65 or older, 6.5 percent of the black population and 2.7 percent of the Hispanic population.
 7. Minorities constitute 27 percent of the senior citizens in the City of Chicago; 18 percent in Cook County; and 10 percent in the state.
 8. Eight and three-tenths of every 10 older persons live in urban areas, generally places with over 2,500 population.
 9. The majority of older persons live with family (53.5 percent); 39.4 percent live alone or with non-relatives, and 7.1 percent live in institutions.
 10. About 11.9 percent of Illinois' older persons are below the poverty level.

CONSULTANT TO EXAMINE COUNTY'S JUDICIAL COSTS
 The costs of administering justice in Madison County will be the focus of a study sponsored by the Northwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission. For the next month, consultant Dr. Thomas Langford of Springfield will be studying how much the county spends for its judicial system and how much revenue the system generates for the county. Langford met last week with the county's finance committee to describe what he will be doing in the next 30 days. "There is clearly a mismatch between revenues and expenditures in the judicial system at the county level," Langford told the committee. He said the results of his study will help SILEC in lobbying for General Assembly legislation to raise rates, fees and add a valid driver's license.

ASSIST CALL LEADS TO WARRANT ARREST
 Lawrence D. Fitzgerald, 25, of 1108 College St., Madison, was arrested on three county warrants when Madison police were called to assist Venice police in an alleged disturbance at the same address.
 Venice police did not press charges against Fitzgerald, but Madison police found outstanding warrants against him on charges of failure to appear in court on a speeding charge and not having a valid driver's license.

PLANNING A GALA. Area senior citizens get together to plan their annual fair to be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville March 21. From the left, Henry Strackeljohn of Fairview Heights, Leona Menestrina of Belleville, Eleanor Weber of Venice and Suzanne Blatner of Madison. The fair will feature the exhibition and sale of hand-crafted articles by members of area senior citizen groups, information on services available to older Americans by community agencies and organizations, and preventative health screenings for hearing disabilities, diabetes, blood pressure and oral health. In addition, participants will be able to dance to the music of the Frank Cherry Orchestra and be entertained by various types of musical groups and dancers. (Photo by Gene Umberger)

Gill urging more state school funds

A $3.4 million increase in state funds for education programs and services for fiscal year 1984 (starting in July 1983) is the preliminary budget recommendation of State Superintendent of Education Ronald Gill. Gill presented his proposed budget for elementary and secondary education to the State Board of Education. The preliminary budget calls for an appropriation of $1,826,000 in state funds to support education programs and services of local schools.
 Dr. Gill's budget is a 5.4 percent increase over FY 83 reduced appropriations. In submitting his proposed budget, he said the full resource needs for local school programs and services would require a $154.4 million increase, but that the $92.6 million request is a realistic figure under present conditions and unless new revenue sources are provided.
 The state's present financial problems, this budget request calls for a responsible increase to address the basic needs of our schools. The $92.6 million request is a realistic figure under present conditions and unless new revenue sources are provided.
 The state aid increase would raise the pupil support level from $1,638 to an estimated $1,740. The support level increase in this proposed budget reflects more the anticipated increase in local property taxes and enrollment declines than it does increased state funding.
 Only about a fourth of the 1,009 local districts receive more than 50 percent of the support level from the state. Under the budget, categorical programs, which are reimbursed through statutory formulas, would receive a $34.7 million increase over the present spending level. The categorical appropriation would be raised to $387.2 million for FY 84. The funding level for categorical programs would allow all but four of the statutory categorical formulas to be reimbursed at an estimated 95 percent of claims. The two orphanage programs, regional superintendents' salaries and their supervisory expense fund would all receive full funding. For the non-statutory categorical programs, the recommended appropriation is $81.1 million, an $8.3 million increase over the dollars for FY 83. Under initiatives in Gill's proposed budget, he recommends increasing appropriations for both the high impact training services (HITS) program and the computer consortia by $500,000. The appropriations would be $1.5 million for HITS and $1 million for the consortia. Computer consortia is a competitive grant program that provides funds for training of school personnel in computer education and assists districts with the purchase of software. HITS is a job training program conducted through local education agencies. Dr. Gill's budget, at this time, includes two separate figures for consideration and discussion of funding for teachers' retirement systems. The retirement systems report the payout levels in FY 84 to be $56,285.10. Full funding of that payout level would require state appropriations to rise $127 million. If they are funded at 77.5 percent of payout level, as suggested by the governor, state funds would need to be increased $47 million. The State Board of Education's budget and finance committee will conduct a public hearing Thursday, Feb. 10, in Springfield on the superintendent's proposed budget figures. The hearing will be held from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the board room, fourth floor, State Board of Education office, 100 N. 1st St. Oral testimony will be limited to five minutes. Written testimony of any length will be accepted. Speakers are to submit 10 copies of their written testimony to the hearing panel.

BURGLAR TAKES WEAPONS, JEWELRY
 Martel Swiger, 2632 Ponton Road, reported this week that his home had been entered by a burglar, who had broken a bedroom window to gain access to the rooming.
 Stolen were a 12-gauge shotgun, a 30-30 Marlin rifle, a .22-caliber Remington automatic pistol, a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver, two large floor speakers, two gold necklaces, a watch and the contents of a medicine cabinet.
 Date of the break-in was not given. The case was filed Aug. 30, 1982, and a guilty plea was submitted in December.

State fishing guides offered

The 1983 Illinois Fishing Information pamphlet and the 1983 Illinois Fishing Prospects Guide are now available, according to Mike Conlin, fish and wildlife division chief, Department of Conservation.

Copies may be obtained at the DOC's Fish and Wildlife Office, 600 N. Grand Ave., West Springfield 62706, the Illinois Adventure Center, State of Illinois Building, 160 N. LaSalle St., Chicago 60601; or from any DOC regional office.

The 1983 Illinois Fishing Information pamphlet is a pocket-sized publication explaining basic fishing regulations, including catch and size limits. It also contains a brief list of top fishing spots in the state and information regarding state fishing records and sport fishing awards.

The 1983 Illinois Fishing Prospects is a tabloid sized publication providing a comprehensive rundown on where the better fishing should take place in 1983. It includes a special section devoted to fishing opportunities and regulations governing Cook County Forest Preserve waters.

More than 100 lakes and streams throughout the state are described. The guide informs readers which lakes are best for each particular species, water acreage, location, best months for fishing, recommended baits, and average weight of fish caught in the area. It also features complete information regarding the DOC's sport fishing awards program.

New federal job training

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) will administer the new federal Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) when it takes effect Oct. 1, 1983, replacing the old Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program.

Local administering agencies will be chosen to run the programs in designated service delivery areas of the state. The state will publish a map of the service areas by Feb. 10.

"In essence, the new act places more emphasis on the needs of the business community in setting up training programs.

"With a stronger role being played by local businesses, we will be assured that workers will get the right training for the right jobs in their area," said DCCA Director Peter B. Fox.

Recession doing little damage to transit district's finances

By PAIGE ST. JOHN
Even though the economy is hurting, county sales tax revenues are expected to be steady enough next year to keep the Madison County Transit District in the black.

The transit board, at its meeting last week, based its 1983 budget on expected sales tax revenues of $2.7 million, up from the $2.6 million taken in last year.

The district also will be paying out more this year, including an additional $400,000 to the Bi-State Development Agency and $125,000 in an Alton promotional plan.

The increased bill from Bi-State partly includes some additional services, East-West Gateway manager Susan Schold said.

The transit district is considering setting up three new runs, including two express buses in Collinsville. Increased services account for about $126,000, she said.

The rest of the $1.6 million going to Bi-State from the transit district's funds is for current service.

Other expenditures included in the 1983 budget include $350,000 for para-transit programs (that help fund local transit projects); $65,000 for Vanpool Services and $44,000 for management guidance from East-West Gateway.

The district's promotional budget was increased from $20,000 last year to $125,000 this year. Mrs. Schold said.

Patton Completes Marine Training
Marine Private Bobby G. Patton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby G. (Joanne) Patton Sr., 4213 Marigold Drive, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

The release of state funds, which clears the way for $3 million in federal funds, will be used to purchase land, build a culvert and share the cost of building a channel for the project. Thompson also released $150,000 to replace sewage disposal system at three youth camps in Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton.

FUNDING FOR AREA FLOOD CONTROL JOB

Gov. James R. Thompson has released Capital Development Board funds totaling $400,000 to continue the Blue Waters Drainage flood control project in Madison-St. Clair counties.

The release of state funds, which clears the way for $3 million in federal funds, will be used to purchase land, build a culvert and share the cost of building a channel for the project. Thompson also released $150,000 to replace sewage disposal system at three youth camps in Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton.

The concerns center around a perception that the new dam will raise water levels in the navigation pool and increase the probability of flooding along the lower Illinois.

"That is a mistaken impression," says Sutton, project coordinator for the new lock and dam.

Lock and Dam 26 Replacement is designed for the exact same pool level as those of the present structure at Alton.

"The pool will extend about two miles further downstream, but will maintain the same elevation upstream of the old structure as has existed for the past forty-plus years," Sutton related.

He added that this question has come up several times in the past. He expressed puzzlement as to the reason, since "there was never any plan to raise the pool level."

"We have always taken the existing pool level as a basic design requirement."

"I hope people everywhere around Navigation Pool 26 will rest assured that the new navigation dam will make absolutely no contribution to potential flood levels."

No raise in navigation pool level

Citizens along the lower Illinois River have apparently developed a misapprehension about the new lock and dam project under construction downstream from the Mississippi, according to Bill Sutton of the Army Corps of Engineers.

The concerns center around a perception that the new dam will raise water levels in the navigation pool and increase the probability of flooding along the lower Illinois.

"That is a mistaken impression," says Sutton, project coordinator for the new lock and dam.

Lock and Dam 26 Replacement is designed for the exact same pool level as those of the present structure at Alton.

"The pool will extend about two miles further downstream, but will maintain the same elevation upstream of the old structure as has existed for the past forty-plus years," Sutton related.
